General Comment

I am writing to encourage the Department of Labor to encourage fiduciaries to invest in socially responsible investments (SRI). I invested my inheritance in SRI mutual funds over 15 years ago and have done extremely well. My wife and I have now decided to move our substantial retirement funds into a total SRI portfolio consisting of a combination of stocks, bonds, and mutual funds as a statement of our values but also because the SRI investing has done extremely well, so well in fact that prominent investment companies are now moving into this market. SRI investing is leading the 21st century economy and is the responsible way for fiduciaries to act.
