General Comment

I am stunned that our federal government is trying to sneak this dishonest rule into law. I do not see how this benefits the American people. It seems like an iron-fisted attempt to silence dissent, stifle free speech, and limit our freedoms. It should never become law. We instead need to move in the other direction, by promoting and allowing more environmentally-focused and social justice-related investments in our retirement funds. We should move to strongly regulate or even eliminate any retirement funds that engage in systems that destroy our planet, most especially limiting investments in manufacturers of weapons.
