General Comment

We desire to have our accounts handled in a way that is responsible and provides the best returns. This is not to be based on politics, or political correctness, or social agendas. We would like to live out our years not having to be concerned about our ability to buy food and drive our car. We have worked hard since our teens and we object to elected and unelected people in Washington D.C. having their own agenda. When they have a guaranteed pension (at our expense/tax dollars), they normally do not care about us "little people" because they do not have to live by the rules that the rest of us suffer under.
