General Comment

In today's social and economic climate, many people, like myself, are concerned about their retirement benefits. My husband has funds in the Public Employees Retirement System, and I have investments in the State Teacher's Retirement System. We urge you to invest our funds mainly by focusing on our plans' financial returns with the least risk reasonably possible. We care about the environment and sound social issues, but we do not want investments in these at the expense of reduced returns. Thank you for your time and consideration.
