General Comment

I am adamant that fund managers should be investing based on their fiduciary responsibilities and not some ideological motivation, especially with respect to China. CCP is very clear in their intentions and they should be driven out of our financial industry. It's time to make the break. Hundreds of thousands of dead Americans and Europeans at the hands of the Chinese, deserve our action on this issue.

I personally do not buy 'made in China' products. That should apply to my mutual funds as well. Financial back-door payments to fund managers, entrepreneurs, and business leaders is anti-American activity.
