Federal Registrar John smith,

We count on the Department of Labor to follow through with this revision and fix the Trump-era rules making it more difficult for retirement plan managers to consider the real-world impact of their investments on the climate, working conditions, or racial equity, as well as the major economic risks associated with these investments. Workers and their retirement plans should have the right to decide which companies they support and finance with their hard earned savings.

Dorothy Brown