Federal Registrar John smith,

I am already retired and mostly live off of my social security. However I do live on this planet and see that how workers money is invested really impacts us all as Americans and actually the whole world. That is why I encourage you to fully reverse the Trump-era rules by eliminating all prohibitions and burdens that discourage retirement plans from considering workplace safety, climate impact, racial equity and other conditions that affect the long-term sustainability of the business. Workers' and retirees' savings should be able to be invested in safe and sustainable ways that promote healthy returns, a healthy economy, and a healthy society and planet.

Thank you.

Kyle Rolnick
