General Comment

Stop trying to force investment managers to invest in environmentalist and other leftist-based investments. Investment managers should be investing people's retirement money to maximize returns, not finance leftist agenda. Leave investment managers alone and let them invest based on what will maximize returns. Environmentalism and leftist ideas in general are destructive because they seek to sacrifice people raw nature, the young to the old (through social security), the employed to the unemployed (through welfare for the unemployed, the wealthy to the poor (through welfare for the poor), etc. Individuals have a right to their own lives and a right to live their lives as they see fit, based on their own rational judgment. Sacrificing individuals is antithetical to human life. We should be reducing the government interference in the economy, not increasing it. The government should not be telling investment managers how to invest or even making recommendations to them.
