General Comment

Federal Registrar John smith,

I support the Department of Labor's revision of the Trump-era rules which will give workers and retirees greater ability to choose sustainable investment options and make sure their retirement plan managers consider sustainability as well.

I want my retirement funds invested in companies whose work and products are sustainable and who treat their employees with fairness and respect.

Please do the right thing and give retirees like me (and retirement plans) the power to decide which investments fit their needs, without the burdens and restrictions of the Trump-era rules.
