Please do not implement this rule. Since Options in IRA's are already restricted to covered positions, this is not used for speculation, but to protect your position and/or generate income. In today's low interest rate environment - this is one of the few tools available to retirees to generate income (covered calls)