The last thing that investors need is the Federal Government restricting their ability to reduce risk by trading options in an IRA. Selling call options is a way to generate income and thus reduce the cost of an earlier acquisition of the shares.

Please stay out of the way of American investing in their countries corporations.

You people have no idea what you are doing.