General Comment

I have a self directed IRA. I am 53 years old, so I am unlikely to receive significant Social Security benefits due to fiscal mismanagement by the government. Now you want to eliminate tools I am using to try to provided for myself.

I use covered calls and puts extensively to attempt to generate income. I have been using these tools for nearly 30 years in various accounts. I do NOT need some pinheads to protect me by eliminating these options. I implore you, please do not enact this rule.
