General Comment

Please DO NOT restrict my ability as an individual investor to trade options in my IRA account. I am a responsible adult that has educated myself concerning the benefits and liabilities of option trading. For you as my elected government to punish me because other individuals may make a bad decision in their investment portfolio seems patently against everything my rights as an American.

I would suggest you are taking the exact opposite approach of what would "protect us from ourselves". Require brokers TO educate their clients prior to trading options. DO NOT restrict my ability to do what I desire.

Thank you for your review of my comments. I trust you will modify the proposed rule to allow free choice in America.
