General Comment

I oppose any attempt toward eliminating my ability to write covered options in my IRA account. Covered options are one of the least riskiest ways to generate income in my retirement account. The criminally low interests rates that are being imposed by the Federal Reserve is hurting retirees who diligent saved there money but cannot receive a fair return. Now the government is proposing to eliminate another source of portfolio income under the guise of protecting. Please stop trying to protect us with all these nanny rules.
