General Comment

We have been alerted that the imposition (yes, against our wishes and without our vote) of the rule will eliminate our use of options within our Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA). This reduces our freedom! Something the Obama administration and its administrative organizations keep doing with regularity (and stupidly). Please do not institute this rule. Please let us have freedom to do as we wish. The possibility of failure on our part should not be your (Obama) concern. Each freedom lost (however small) is also the loss of possible success. More regulation is always a loss of individual freedom, however defined by the rule maker. Please leave us alone!
