General Comment

Please do not adopt this rule change. I wish to remain responsible for managing my IRA accounts and wish to have available to me a wide range of investment tools and investment options. Having the ability to trade options (calls and puts) within my IRA provides me with the ability to both manage risk and increase the income within my investments. Both of these tools enhance my retirement savings and ability to live my life financially as I desire.

Again I am against any change to the existing rules and regulations. I am not in favor of the Government further involving themselves in my financial decision making.

Thank you
