General Comment

I am a retired investor that uses options in my IRA to consistently pay my bills. I strongly oppose any effort to eliminate this feature for my IRA. Eliminating this capacity would seriously impact my family's ability to support ourselves now that we are fully retired. I use both covered calls and also cash secured puts on conservative dividend stocks. There is no reason for government to intrude on my investment decisions on money that I have saved/earned my entire life and have counted on to support my retirement!
