As I understand it, this rule will restrict the trading of options in IRA accounts for individuals. This must be stricken from the rule so individuals have the same rights as the hedge fund behemoths on Wall Street. We currently are able to trade options within our IRA accounts, and that must be continued to be allowed to protect our personal portfolios.