General Comment

I hereby request that you allow those of us who hold IRA accounts, the ability to continue to trade options within those accounts. I am a long time trader and have taken many courses on options and now use options to hedge my stock positions, trade for income and improve my investment results markedly. Prohibiting us from using options, takes away an important investment tool which is available to all other traders. I urge you to keep in place our ability to protect and enhance our investments by using options.
