General Comment

You have made it almost Impossible to generate ongoing income to an IRA to this point and are now trying to take the only option to do so away. I strongly oppose changing this rule to eliminate the sale of options in an IRA account. If anything it should be expanded to include all types of option trades!
The only people making money in IRA accounts are the directors! If anything you should get them out of the entire arena. It's ridiculous for millions of people to have to pay these idiots to lose their hard earned money with no repercussions!!!
