As part of the public comments being solicited for RIN 1210-AB32, please accept this submission:

Please do not take away the ability for retirement accounts to trade options. There are safe ways to use options (e.g., writing covered calls on stocks one already owns, and writing puts for stocks one intends to purchase at key support levels). Do not take these safe, income generating techniques away from us. It may be well intentioned but please understand that we do not want to be constrained by paternalistic regulators. We are adults living in a free society and should be able to make our own investment and trading decisions. We do not want someone else, who feels they know better than us, making those decisions for us.

Thank you,
