I understand that a ruling to limit or eliminate options trading in retirement accounts would be part of this plan. Please do not do this. I frequently sell covered calls and covered puts to reduce my investment risk and help augment my retirement savings. It has boosted my retirement income substantially over the past few years. Taking away this tool would severely impact my retirement. I do very little speculative trading. Almost all of it is on solid industry dominating companies that have low risk. There are so few retirement enhancing vehicles these days so, again, please do not remove this from retirement accounts.

Thank you for the opportunity to share my thoughts.
