Dear sirs.

The proposed change involving RIN1210-AB32 denying the ability to trade options in one's IRA account is an arrogant abuse of power. I and many others use covered call and put options to protect equities in our portfolios. As a retired yr. old who has used this strategy to protect my investments for over 16 years, i would feel very vulnerable if you people would just summarily prohibit this very necessary strategy. It would be a needless abrogation of my and others' freedom. So please reconsider and drop this unnecessary provision.
