To Whom it May Concern:

I opened an online brokerage account four years ago and have been engaged in the selling of covered calls in my retirement account for the past two years. It has been profitable and I have seen my account grow considerably as a result of this technique. The best fact of all is how safe and effective it is.

I learned this technique over two plus years from an investment service that I purchased and benefitted from greatly. I do not want this opportunity to be threatened by any well intentioned but misguided government intervention.

Respectfully submitted,
