Please do not remove my ability to trade options via my IRA. Trading options when done properly is safe and adds vital income to my retirement portfolio. I have traded options successfully for two years. It is a great tool to use when the market is not running up. I use it to trade safe, non-volatile stocks. Earning the options premium and dividends at the same time. Should the Federal Government be for the little guy and allow him to use as many tools available to gain more income in his retirement. I think the answer is yes!.

Thank you,
