To Whom It May Concern,
if you create a ban on Options trading in my IRA, my family's security, and MY security into retirement, will be either severely threatened, or wholly annihilated.

It's as simply as that. I depend upon options trading in this 21st century stock market.

Additionally, my daughter is mentally disabled and unable to care for herself. Unless i can continue to build a portfolio through options trading that leaves her enough funds to support herself after my death, she will suffer enormous hardship (we have no brothers/sisters/family to help after i'm gone). in this financial climate, it's also possible that she could find herself homeless, which only adds to the social issues from which all Americans suffer today.

PLEASE DON'T BAN OPTIONS TRADING IN IRA's. If you do my family's suffering will be on YOUR heads.
