Subject: Banning use of options in IRA

Dear Department of Labor:

I am totally against your proposed rule of not allowing of the use of options in IRAs. I enjoy the freedom of choice involved with using options or stocks in my portfolio. The fact that someone wants to restrict my right to do so tells me that people in your department do not understand the flexibility of options.

Why can't you let people decide how they would like to invest their hard earned life savings rather than you decide what's best for them. This is just another example of big government stripping the rights of it's citizens. Free country ? I'm beginning to wonder.

Sincerely,
