Project Overview

This Disaster Recovery National Dislocated Worker Grant funding will support the NHE DWG project providing disaster relief jobs and employment services to eligible individuals in the New York counties impacted by the health and economic effects of widespread opioid use, addiction, and overdose.

Project Description

The US Department of Health and Human Services declared the opioid crisis a national public health emergency in October 2017. The proposed grant will provide eligible participants with disaster relief employment in jobs addressing the impacts of the opioid crisis, including positions such as peer supports, peer recovery navigators and intake coordinator staff. The project will also provide employment services to participants seeking careers in healthcare professions related to addiction, treatment, prevention, and pain management. The state will serve 22 counties.
