SUBJECT: Senior Community Service Employment Program State Plan Modifications

1. Purpose. The purpose of this Training and Employment Guidance Letter (TEGL) is to provide Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP) states, territories, and outlying areas with guidance for submission of two-year modifications to SCSEP Stand-Alone State Plans, including the process and deadline for submission. Note that this guidance pertains only to states that submitted a SCSEP Stand-Alone State Plan for Program Year (PY) 2020-2023. States that included SCSEP as part of a Unified or Combined State Plan for PY 2020-2023 must refer to TEGL 4-21 “Modification Requirements for Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) State Plans for Program Years (PYs) 2022 and 2023” for instructions.
2. Action Requested. States and territories must review their PY 2020 State Plan submissions and submit their SCSEP Stand-Alone State Plan modifications via email with “State Plan Modification” in the subject line to grants.scsepdocs@dol.gov on or before March 15, 2022. See Section 4 of this TEGL for detailed submission requirements.
3. Summary and Background.
 - a. Summary – This guidance provides instructions for states to submit two-year modifications to SCSEP Stand-Alone State Plans.
 - b. Background – In order to receive SCSEP funds, the Older Americans Act, as amended at 42 U.S.C. 3056 et seq. (OAA) requires each state to submit a State Plan that includes a four-year strategy for the statewide provision of community services and other authorized activities for eligible individuals under the SCSEP. The OAA also requires that each state submit modifications to the State Plan not less than every two years.

Similarly, WIOA requires states to submit State Plans every four years to the Departments of Labor and Education outlining their workforce development activities. Every two years, the Governor is required to review the four-year State Plan and submit modifications for consideration and approval.

In 2020, SCSEP grantees had the option of submitting a SCSEP Stand-Alone State Plan as an independent document or as part of a Combined State Plan with other WIOA programs. As noted above, states that included SCSEP in a Combined State Plan for PY 2020-2023 must refer to TEGL 4-21 for instructions for modifying their State Plan. For states that submitted a SCSEP Stand-Alone State Plan for PY 2020-2023, please see the instructions provided below and attached. In PY 2020, 31 states submitted stand-alone State Plans.

4. SCSEP State Plan Modification Requirements.

- a. Required Updates to SCSEP State Plans – SCSEP regulations require that either the Governor or the highest state governmental official review and submit an update to the State Plan every two years (20 CFR 641.340(a)). For detailed SCSEP State Plan modification requirements, please see Attachment I. Modifications must address any changes to the elements in Attachment I, as applicable. Whether states and territories are submitting modifications for Combined or Stand-Alone plans, they should review all the SCSEP regulations and the TEGLs listed in the Reference section below for clarification of the requirements and expectations of State Plan modification submissions for SCSEP.
- b. SCSEP Planning Priorities – In contemplating changes to the SCSEP State Plan elements listed in Attachment I, we recommend that states give particular emphasis to the following considerations:
 - Changes in projected employment opportunities and economic conditions – When states last submitted SCSEP State Plans in the spring of 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic and its significant disruptions to global and local economies had only just begun. As a result, it is particularly critical, for purposes of developing and submitting the SCSEP Two-Year State Plan modification, that states reassess economic and labor market information (LMI) and adjust strategies for what may now be a different set of growing and declining industries, occupations, and skills relevant to older workers.
 - Flexible service-delivery strategies – As states continue to recover from the disruptions of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Department reminds SCSEP grantees that they have the flexibility to implement service-delivery models that keep participants safe while still accomplishing the objectives of the program. In particular, such models may include the use of remote or telework arrangements for community service assignments, training, and other activities. As with any community service assignment, such arrangements still require grantees to ensure that the community service assignment provides adequate supervision, development of needed soft skills, provision of appropriate training aligned to participants' Individual Employment Plans, and access to any hardware and connectivity necessary for the work assigned. Grantees implementing such assignments must also ensure that all participants are served equitably, including those who are not able to take advantage of remote or telework arrangements.

- Equity in service delivery – States should examine which population groups experience inequities in access to and participation in SCSEP – particularly those populations identified in LMI analysis as having higher unemployment and lower earnings than the overall population, as well as those identified in the SCSEP Minority Report as having relatively lower rates of participation and/or achieving relatively lower outcomes. The Department encourages states to develop SCSEP service-delivery strategies that better address and promote equity in service design, recruitment, implementation, and support services that aim to provide equitable access and outcomes to all communities seeking access to SCSEP services.
 - Outreach and services to formerly incarcerated individuals – The Supporting Older Americans Act of 2020 amended the Older Americans Act to add formerly incarcerated individuals to the list of priority of service characteristics and includes them in the definitions of individuals with barriers to employment and most-in-need. The Department has provided additional guidance about these requirements in TEGL 17-20. As applicable in this Two-Year State Plan Modification, we advise SCSEP grantees to describe any plans to conduct outreach to and services for formerly incarcerated individuals as defined under TEGL 17-20.
- c. Soliciting Public Comments – SCSEP grantees must make the modified plan available for public comment before submission (20 CFR 641.345(c)). The regulations allow but do not require the state to seek the advice and recommendations of individuals and organizations affected by changes to the plan (see 20 CFR 641.315 for the list of such entities) except that States must seek the advice and recommendations of any national grantees operating in the State. The state grantee should follow established state procedures to solicit and collect public comments on the modified State Plan.
- d. Submitting Two-Year SCSEP State Plan Modifications – States and territories that submitted PY 2020-2023 SCSEP Stand-Alone State Plans may describe their updates in a separate document or can alter the original document and submit with track changes. As noted above, states that submitted the SCSEP State Plan as part of a WIOA Combined State Plan must refer to TEGL 4-21 for instructions. States and territories must submit their SCSEP Stand-Alone State Plan modifications via email with “State Plan Modification” in the subject line to grants.scsepdocs@dol.gov on or before March 15, 2022. The Governor or the Governor’s designee submits SCSEP State Plan modifications. If the designee is submitting the plan, the state must attach a letter from the Governor naming his or her designee. Grantees that received a conditional approval for their PY 2020-2023 SCSEP Stand-Alone State Plan and have not responded to date must submit a modification addressing those conditions. If there are no modifications to the SCSEP Stand-Alone State Plan at this time, the state must submit a letter from the Governor or Governor’s designee stating that there are no modifications at this time. We recommend that states send a copy via email of their modification submission to the appropriate Federal Project Officer (FPO) at the same time.
