This volume is part of a project funded by a grant from U.S.DOL-ETA (Contract No. AK-12224-02-60) to the Nelson A. Rockefeller Institute of Government. The project is under the overall direction of Richard Nathan, Director of the Rockefeller Institute of Government. We are grateful to the state and local officials in our study states for participating in this project and reviewing our case studies. We are also grateful to ETA staff including David Balducchi, Amanda Briggs Spickard, and Stephen Wandner for providing valuable guidance throughout the project. Marilyn McCabe provided editorial support. The authors alone are responsible for all views and opinions expressed in the case studies, as well as any errors.
