

Nicaragua

The Government of Nicaragua has collaborated with the mining industry and coffee producers to reduce child labor and has strengthened its policy framework to address the worst forms of child labor in those sectors. However, hazardous child labor in agriculture and the commercial sexual exploitation of children continue to exist. Gaps exist in the enforcement of child labor laws and in programs that address exploitative child labor in some agricultural and informal sectors.

Social Programs to Eliminate or Prevent the Worst Forms of Child Labor

Children in Nicaragua are engaged in the worst forms of child labor,<sup>4264</sup> especially in agriculture and commercial sexual exploitation.<sup>4265</sup> Children work producing crops such as coffee, bananas and tobacco. These children often carry heavy loads, use dangerous tools and are exposed to dangerous pesticides and fertilizers.<sup>4266</sup> Children also work long hours under risk of physical injury in tasks such as breeding livestock, crushing stone, extracting pumice, mining for gold and collecting mollusks and shellfish.<sup>4267</sup> In addition, children work as street vendors, which may expose them to multiple dangers, including severe weather, vehicle accidents and criminal elements.<sup>4268</sup> Children also work as domestic servants in third-party homes, where they face long hours and are often subjected to abuse. Some children engage in construction, which may require them to carry heavy loads and use dangerous tools.<sup>4269</sup> Children may also work in the transportation sector, isolated from their families and often riding precariously on the exterior of vehicles or entering and exiting moving vehicles.<sup>4270</sup> A significant number of children work in the informal sector, and some are engaged in garbage dump scavenging.<sup>4271</sup> Children reportedly are working in the production of oranges, African palm, sugarcane, fireworks, cigars and bread.<sup>4272</sup> Although there were no new cases in 2010, child pornography has been reported as a problem in Nicaragua.<sup>4273</sup>

Children are also exploited in prostitution.<sup>4274</sup> Nicaragua is a source and transit country for minors trafficked for sexual exploitation.<sup>4275</sup> Some children are trafficked within Nicaragua for sex tourism, which is reportedly on the rise, and to work as domestic servants.<sup>4276</sup> Persons without legal identification documents are at an increased risk of trafficking, and UNICEF has indicated that more than one-third of Nicaraguan children have not been formally registered with the Government.<sup>4277</sup> Nicaraguan children are recruited to work without pay on farms in Costa Rica.<sup>4278</sup> Children from poor rural areas, especially girls, are among the most vulnerable to trafficking. The victims are often deceived with promises of good jobs and then forced to work as prostitutes in urban areas or neighboring countries.<sup>4279</sup> The Government reports that trafficking is a significant problem and that trafficking victims and brothel owners are linked to organized crime.<sup>4280</sup> The Government believes that the lack of economic opportunities, increased regional trade, semi-porous borders and the development of communications technology have been factors contributing to the recruitment of children and youth into commercial sexual exploitation and trafficking.<sup>4281</sup>

Laws and Regulations on the Worst Forms of Child Labor

The Labor Code sets the minimum age for employment at age 14.<sup>4282</sup> Children ages 14 to 16 must have parental permission and be under the supervision of the Ministry of Labor (MOL) in order to work.<sup>4283</sup> Minors are prohibited from engaging in work that may interfere with their schooling or that endangers their health and safety, such as work in mines, garbage dumps, and night entertainment venues.<sup>4284</sup> The law imposes fines for violators and allows inspectors to close establishments employing children.<sup>4285</sup> The Labor Code requires employers of adolescent domestic workers under age 18 to facilitate and promote their education.<sup>4286</sup>

In June 2010, in consultation with civil society organizations and employers' and workers' groups, the MOL published an updated list of types of work that are harmful to the health, safety and morals of children, applicable to both the informal and formal sectors.<sup>4287</sup> In October 2010, the MOL issued regulations specific to the 2010-2011 coffee harvest prohibiting children under age 14 from working, protecting adolescents of legal working age and ensuring minimum wages.<sup>4288</sup>

The Constitution prohibits forced labor, slavery, and indentured servitude.<sup>4289</sup> The Constitution was amended in 1995 to prohibit compulsory military service. The minimum legal age for entry into the armed forces is 18.<sup>4290</sup>

	Free Public Education	Yes

The Penal Code establishes penalties related to the commercial sexual exploitation of children, including for the procurement or recruitment of children under age 18 for prostitution.<sup>4291</sup> Promoting, filming or selling child pornography is prohibited.<sup>4292</sup> The Penal Code also prohibits trafficking of persons and imposes increased penalties for trafficking of individuals under age 18.<sup>4293</sup>

The Constitution requires compulsory education through primary school, which is about age 15.<sup>4294</sup> However, children in Nicaragua can begin work at the age of 14, increasing their risk of involvement in exploitative labor. The Constitution establishes the right to free primary education, but associated school costs prohibit some children from attending school.<sup>4295</sup>

Institutional Mechanisms for Coordination and Enforcement

The MOL's National Commission for the Progressive Eradication of Child Labor and Protection of the Young Worker (CNEPTI) has been the primary institution that sets the priorities on child labor policy.<sup>4296</sup> CNEPTI consists of a consortium of government agencies and NGOs that address child labor issues in the country through awareness-raising strategies and coordination of direct action programs.<sup>4297</sup> However, CNEPTI has not officially convened since September 2009.<sup>4298</sup>

The MOL is responsible for enforcing labor laws.<sup>4299</sup> The MOL's Inspector General's Office is responsible for inspecting all child labor violations.<sup>4300</sup> The Child Labor Inspections Unit conducts training on child labor. It also regulates and integrates child labor issues into labor inspections and works with the Nicaraguan National Police (NNP), Ministry of Family and the Human Rights Attorney for Children to enforce child labor laws.<sup>4301</sup>

CNEPTI uses its revenues from fines to raise awareness and protect minors.<sup>4302</sup> The Ministry of Family administers a general hotline to report the welfare of children, including the exploitation of children.<sup>4303</sup> In 2010, the hotline fielded approximately 6,000 calls, 31 of which dealt with human trafficking or commercial sexual exploitation.<sup>4304</sup> In 2010, the MOL had 87 total inspectors; three were dedicated to conducting child labor investigations.<sup>4305</sup> Nonetheless, Government officials and child labor experts have reported that child labor inspections in agricultural areas are limited due to resource and personnel constraints.<sup>4306</sup> From January through April 2010, 205 child labor inspections were conducted; in 2010, 406 child labor infractions by employers were identified.<sup>4307</sup> The MOL reported that it removed 64 children from hazardous work in 2010.<sup>4308</sup> However, no information is available on the number of prosecutions or convictions for child labor cases.<sup>4309</sup>

The Ministry of Government is responsible for combating trafficking, operating an anti-trafficking unit, leading the National Coalition against Trafficking in Persons (NCATIP) and supporting a national protocol to repatriate children and adolescents who have been victims of trafficking.<sup>4310</sup> Nonetheless, a 2009 evaluation of a USDOL-funded project found that institutional weaknesses in some of the agencies that participate in the NCATIP could hinder the effectiveness of the protocol.<sup>4311</sup> The Public Ministry's Gender Unit has two national-level prosecutors and 35 department-level prosecutors who handle cases of child exploitation, including child trafficking, commercial sexual exploitation and the use of children in illegal activities.<sup>4312</sup>

The NNP maintains a national hotline for reporting child trafficking.<sup>4312</sup> In 2010, the Government convicted three individuals for trafficking of minors.<sup>4314</sup> The Government provides limited shelter and services to child trafficking victims; international organizations and NGOs are the principal service providers assisting trafficking victims.<sup>4315</sup>

Government Policies on the Worst Forms of Child Labor

The Government's National Time-Bound Program, developed to create a coordinated policy for the elimination of the worst forms of child labor, is led by CNEPTI.<sup>4316</sup> In December 2010, the Government officially launched the Roadmap for the Elimination of the Worst Forms of Child Labor by 2015, which had been developed by multiple ministries, employer groups, unions and other civil society organizations, with assistance from the ILO and IDB.<sup>4317</sup> However, an action plan to implement the Roadmap has not yet been issued.<sup>4318</sup> The MOL has collaboration agreements with the Chamber of Mines and the Mining

Union, and with coffee plantations to prevent and eliminate the worst forms of child labor.<sup>4319</sup> In recognition of World Day Against Child Labor, in June 2010 coffee producers re-affirmed their commitment to support educational opportunities for children of coffee workers and to share good practices with other producers.<sup>4320</sup>

The Government's Policy on Special Protection for Children and Adolescents includes special protections for victims of commercial sexual exploitation and trafficking in persons.<sup>4321</sup> As a member of the Central American Parliament Commission on Women, Children, Youth and Family, the Government is participating in a regional Plan to Support the Prevention and Elimination of Human Trafficking and Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children and Adolescents.<sup>4322</sup>

The Government oversees the implementation of the 10-year National Action Plan for Children and Adolescents, which supports children's rights.<sup>4323</sup> The National Program for Decent Work in Nicaragua (2008–2011) supports efforts to eliminate the worst forms of child labor by 2015 and includes specific provisions for assistance to CNEPTI and the National Commission against Commercial Sexual Exploitation.<sup>4324</sup> Additionally, the Government of Nicaragua's poverty reduction strategy incorporates policy actions to eradicate child labor.<sup>4325</sup> Nevertheless, the Government has not fully developed concrete steps for the implementation of the above plans and programs to achieve its objectives against child labor.

The Government is striving to achieve its Millennium Development and Education for All goals by 2015. With support from the World Bank and USAID, the Government has implemented poverty reduction strategies that have contributed to improved educational access, attendance and quality in primary schools.<sup>4326</sup> Secondary schools have not been targeted as a priority, and secondary school attendance remains low— increasing the risk of children's engagement in exploitative work.<sup>4327</sup>

Social Programs to Eliminate or Prevent the Worst Forms of Child Labor

CNEPTI has been making efforts to raise awareness about the negative effects of exploitative child labor, supporting national child labor surveys, involving children and adolescents in cultural and rights-based programs and coordinating direct action programs in various sectors in which the worst forms of child labor occur.<sup>4328</sup> The Coffee Harvest Plan (Plan Cosecha de Café), supported by CNEPTI, aims to develop a comprehensive approach to assist children whose parents work in the coffee harvest and improve educational opportunities for children on the coffee plantations.<sup>4329</sup> The MOL has been collaborating with coffee producers, other government ministries, and civil society organizations to achieve a child-labor free coffee harvest in the Department of Jinotega. The Ministry has identified the need to extend these strategies to reach more children who work in other agricultural sectors.<sup>4330</sup>

The Government of Nicaragua is participating in a USDOL-funded 3-year, $5 million initiative primarily in the coffee-growing Departments of Madriz and Jinotega that seeks to withdraw and prevent 10,045 children from exploitative labor and provide them with education and training opportunities.<sup>4331</sup> The project has raised awareness among parents and business owners about the hazards of child labor and generated commitments among coffee plantation owners to construct new schools on coffee plantations, provide school materials and eliminate child labor.<sup>4332</sup>

First Lady Rosario Murillo, in coordination with the Ministries of Government, Family, Health, Education and Labor, oversees a child labor initiative called Program Love (Programa Amor) that targets 25,000 street children and their families primarily in Managua and aims to provide education for children and vocational training for parents.<sup>4333</sup> However, there are varied reports about the program's effectiveness.<sup>4334</sup> The Ministry of Education and Sport implements a national literacy and education campaign for children and young persons excluded from the educational system.<sup>4335</sup>

With assistance from the United Nations Population Fund, the Government conducts a birth registration campaign that targets rural areas and indigenous communities along the Atlantic Coast. The campaign facilitates access by undocumented children to social services and helps reduce their vulnerability to trafficking.<sup>4336</sup>

Despite these efforts, current programs do not appear to be sufficient to address the extent of the worst forms of child labor in Nicaragua, particularly in the production of tobacco, crushed stone and pumice.

Based on the reporting above, the following actions would advance the reduction of the worst forms of child labor in Nicaragua:

IN THE AREA OF COORDINATION AND ENFORCEMENT:

- Dedicate more human and financial resources to the enforcement of child labor laws, including in the informal sector.
- Enforce the labor laws regarding domestic workers and raise awareness about employers' obligation to ensure the education of adolescent workers.
- Identify priority areas of child labor that CNEPTI should address and monitor progress by meeting on a regular basis.
- Enhance efforts to fight child trafficking by conducting awareness-raising campaigns; increasing resources to victims; expanding birth registration campaigns nationwide; and improving institutional capacity, coordination and information-sharing among actors involved in national, bilateral and regional anti-trafficking campaigns.

IN THE AREA OF POLICIES:

- Develop concrete action plans to promote the objective of eliminating the worst forms of child labor by 2015.
- Pursue implementation of the Roadmap for the Elimination of the Worst Forms of Child Labor in Nicaragua by 2015.

IN THE AREA OF PROGRAMS:

- Develop strategies and devote resources to improve attendance in secondary education.
- Expand awareness-raising and identify strategies to reduce the demand for child sex tourism and commercial sexual exploitation.
- Dedicate greater resources to expand services that assist child trafficking victims.
- Make publicly available information on Programa Amor and its results in order to inform future efforts.
- Develop programs to address the worst forms of child labor in the production of tobacco, crushed stone, pumice and other sectors with a high incidence of exploitative child labor.
- Apply good practices and strategies to eliminate child labor in the coffee sector to other sectors, including by raising awareness and partnering with business owners to eliminate child labor in their production processes.
