

In 2017, Madagascar made a moderate advancement in efforts to eliminate the worst forms of child labor. The government created the National Gendarmerie Child Protective Services to investigate criminal cases related to the worst forms of child labor in rural areas and adopted a decree providing the National Bureau to Combat Human Trafficking with more autonomy to facilitate allocation of resources. In addition, the National Committee on the Fight Against Child Labor implemented awareness-raising campaigns on child labor in the regions of Atsinanana and Atsimo. The government also continued to participate in a number of programs targeting the worst forms of child labor, including a new cash transfer program that will benefit 3,500 households in the south of Madagascar. However, children in Madagascar engage in the worst forms of child labor, including in commercial sexual exploitation and mining. Children also perform dangerous tasks in agriculture, including in the production of vanilla. Although the government made meaningful efforts in all relevant areas during the reporting period, research could not determine if penalties were applied for violations related to the worst forms of child labor. In addition, limited resources for the systematic enforcement of child labor laws impede government efforts to protect children from the worst forms of child labor and social programs to combat child labor are insufficient to adequately address the extent of the problem.

I. PREVALENCE AND SECTORAL DISTRIBUTION OF CHILD LABOR

Children in Madagascar engage in the worst forms of child labor, including in commercial sexual exploitation and mining. (1; 2; 3; 4; 5) Children also perform dangerous tasks in agriculture, including in the production of vanilla. (6; 7; 8; 9; 10) Table 1 provides key indicators on children's work and education in Madagascar.

Based on a review of available information, Table 2 provides an overview of children's work by sector and activity.

	Forced labor in mining, quarrying, begging, and domestic work (8; 2; 21; 22; 19; 3)

[†] Determined by national law or regulation as hazardous and, as such, relevant to Article 3(d) of ILO C. 182.

[‡] Child labor understood as the worst forms of child labor per se under Article 3(a)–(c) of ILO C. 182.

Children in Madagascar, predominantly girls, are lured by peers, family members, and pimps to engage in commercial sexual exploitation, particularly in tourist locations and mining areas. (19; 2; 3; 25) Children as young as age 10 are also involved in mining gold, stones, and sapphires in the regions of Analamanga, Anosy, Ilakaka, and Vakinankaratra. Children in the mining sector suffer from respiratory problems and diseases such as diarrhea and malaria, and are also at risk of injury from collapsing mines. (8; 21; 17; 22; 23; 19; 25; 5) In addition, children working in the production of vanilla in Madagascar are exposed to toxic substances and extreme temperatures, and transport heavy loads and work for long hours. (6; 7; 9; 16; 32; 15)

Although the Constitution guarantees free compulsory education, access to education is impeded due to a lack of school infrastructure and qualified teachers, limited transportation services in rural areas with long distances to schools, the cost of school fees and supplies, and reported school violence, which leaves children vulnerable to the worst forms of child labor. (17; 33; 34; 19; 18; 35; 15) In addition, Madagascar was hit by Cyclone Enawo in March 2017 and experienced a pneumonic and bubonic plague outbreak in October 2017. Both humanitarian emergencies led to the closure of at least 3,600 schools, affecting attendance for an estimated 495,000 children, which, coupled with the suspension of other social services, increased children’s vulnerability to human trafficking and labor exploitation. (36; 37)

II. LEGAL FRAMEWORK FOR CHILD LABOR

Madagascar has ratified all key international conventions concerning child labor (Table 3).

The government’s laws and regulations are in line with relevant international standards (Table 4).

Malagasy law prohibits hazardous occupations and activities for children; however, these prohibitions do not cover deep-sea diving and fishing, areas in which there is evidence that Malagasy children work in dangerous conditions. However, the government adopted a decree after the reporting period that expands the list of occupations or activities prohibited for children under age 18 to include underwater work. (45; 46)

III. ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS ON CHILD LABOR

The government has established institutional mechanisms for the enforcement of laws and regulations on child labor (Table 5). However, gaps exist within the authority of the Ministry of Civil Services and Labor Division for the Prevention, Abolition, and Monitoring of Child Labor (PACTE) that may hinder adequate enforcement of their child labor laws.

Table 5. Agencies Responsible for Child Labor Law Enforcement

Organization/Agency	Role
Ministry of Civil Services and Labor Division for the Prevention, Abolition, and Monitoring of Child Labor (PACTE)	Enforce child labor laws and coordinate, train, and evaluate all activities toward the elimination of child labor. (33; 47; 18)
Ministry of Justice	Enforce laws pertaining to violence against children, including human trafficking and commercial sexual exploitation. (47; 3) Work with Department-level courts to prosecute child labor cases. (19; 48)
National Civil Police Force Morals and Minors Brigade	Investigate criminal cases involving minors, including issues pertaining to human trafficking and commercial sexual exploitation, mainly in urban areas. Housed under the Ministry of Public Security. (8; 19; 47; 3)
National Gendarmerie Child Protective Services*	Investigate criminal cases involving children, including those related to the worst forms of child labor, mainly in rural areas. Housed under the Ministry of National Defense. (19; 47; 49; 31)
Ministry of Population, Social Protection and the Promotion of Women	Develop and implement programs to protect vulnerable children, including victims of the worst forms of child labor. (19) In collaboration with UNICEF, manage 780 child protection networks to protect children from abuse and exploitation in all 22 regions of Madagascar. (50; 51; 3; 19)

* Agency responsible for child labor enforcement was created during the reporting period.

Labor Law Enforcement

In 2017, labor law enforcement agencies in Madagascar took actions to combat child labor (Table 6). However, gaps exist within the authority of PACTE that may hinder adequate labor law enforcement, including with penalty assessment authorization.

In 2017, the government employed 130 labor inspectors, including 11 child-labor dedicated inspectors, which are disseminated in 18 regional offices to enforce labor laws, including those related to child labor. (19; 47) The number of labor inspectors is likely insufficient for the size of Madagascar's workforce, which includes more than 13.4 million workers. According to the ILO's technical advice of a ratio approaching 1 inspector for every 40,000 workers in less developed economies, Madagascar should employ about 335 labor inspectors. (54; 55; 56) In addition, half of the employed labor inspectors work in the capital, hampering the government's capacity to enforce child labor laws in rural areas, especially in the agricultural sector. (8; 18; 19; 47; 4) During the reporting period, the Labor Inspectorate, with assistance from the ILO, disseminated a manual to improve enforcement of labor laws, including those related to child labor, in the informal sector, which employs more than 40 percent of the workforce. (19; 45; 57)

In 2017, PACTE received a budget of $66,000 to cover its operating expenses, including those associated with coordinating the National Committee on the Fight Against Child Labor (CNLTE). (45) Government officials have indicated that this amount was insufficient to carry out its mandate during the reporting period. In addition, reports indicate that PACTE lacked trained staff, equipment, and funding to manage existing child labor databases and conduct adequate child labor inspections. (8; 19; 47) During the reporting period, PACTE continued to train civil society organizations in the regions of Amoron'i Mania, Matsiatra Ambony, and Vakinankaratra to identify and report cases of child labor. (19)

Criminal Law Enforcement

In 2017, criminal law enforcement agencies in Madagascar took actions to combat child labor (Table 7). However, gaps exist within the operations of the criminal enforcement agencies that may hinder adequate criminal law enforcement, including financial and human resources.

In 2017, the National Civil Police Force Morals and Minors Brigade (PMPM) had its headquarters in Antananarivo and 15 regional units across Madagascar, employing 136 agents. (45) During the reporting period, the PMPM investigated an estimated 773 complaints of crimes against children, such as rape and violence. Of these cases, 52 were for exploitative domestic work and 19 for child trafficking. (19; 59) Some of these cases were reported through the national child protection hotline. (50; 19; 31) It is unclear, however, how many prosecutions were initiated from these complaints and whether these cases led to convictions. (19)

In 2017, the newly created National Gendarmerie Child Protective Services (SPEM) investigated two child trafficking cases, two cases related to commercial sexual exploitation, and one for forced begging. The SPEM referred all cases for prosecution. (31; 59) On March 2017, the Ministry of Justice, the PMPM, and the SPEM launched a case management system, with support from UNICEF, to improve coordination and tracking of criminal cases committed against children, including related to the worst forms of child labor. (48) In addition, the Ministry of Justice, with support from international donors, provided training on anti-trafficking legislation to law enforcement actors, including the PMPM and the SPEM, as well as civil society organizations based in Nosy Be, Ambositra, Mahajanga, Fianarantsoa, Antsiranana, Sambava, and Antananarivo. (48; 59) Despite these efforts, reports indicate a lack of trained staff, equipment, and transportation to adequately conduct criminal law enforcement efforts related to the worst forms of child labor. (8; 61; 62; 19)

In 2017 the overall budget allocation for the Ministry of Population, Social Protection and the Promotion of Women increased to 0.6 percent of the national budget from the previous year. (31) During the reporting period, the Ministry worked with child protection networks in five targeted regions (Diana, Atsimo Andrefana, Boeny, Atsinanana, and Analamanga) to provide legal, social, and medical care to 7,418 child victims of violence and exploitation. (63; 59) In addition, each of these five child protection networks implemented their 3-year action plans to improve reintegration and enforcement efforts related to the worst forms of child labor. (19)

IV. COORDINATION OF GOVERNMENT EFFORTS ON CHILD LABOR

The government has established mechanisms to coordinate its efforts to address child labor (Table 8). However, gaps exist that hinder the effective coordination of efforts to address child labor, including with funding.

Table 8. Key Mechanisms to Coordinate Government Efforts on Child Labor

Coordinating Body	Role and Description
National Committee on the Fight Against Child Labor (CNLTE)	Coordinate programs, advise on child labor legislation and regulations, and implement the National Action Plan to Eliminate the Worst Forms of Child Labor. Led by the Ministry of Civil Services and Labor. (64; 65; 19; 4) In 2017, implemented awareness-raising campaigns on child labor in the regions of Atsinanana and Atsimo. (19)
Regional Child Labor Committees (CRLTE)	Coordinate, monitor, and evaluate all regional activities relating to the elimination of child labor. Comprises 10 regional committees that identify activities to promote the elimination of child labor and compile, analyze, and report child labor data to PACTE. (64; 66; 47) In 2017, the committees in the regions of Vakinankaratra and Amoron'i Mania organized workshops to raise awareness of child labor. (59)
National Bureau to Combat Human Trafficking	Coordinate anti-human trafficking efforts in Madagascar and take responsibility for implementing the National Action Plan to Combat Trafficking in Persons. Chaired by the Office of the Prime Minister, includes representatives from the ministries of Civil Services and Labor, Justice, and Population and Social Affairs. (40; 67; 4; 3) In 2017, the Bureau met to implement the National Action Plan to Combat Trafficking in Persons. In addition, the government adopted a decree that provides more autonomy to the Bureau to facilitate allocation of resources. (19; 45)
National Child Protection Committee	Guide and coordinate national child protection policy and programs. Chaired by the Minister of Population and Social Affairs, comprises a steering committee and a technical commission of specialists. (1; 68; 47) In 2017, conducted a study to assess violence and exploitation of children in Madagascar, released in June 2018. (19; 69)

Madagascar

MODERATE ADVANCEMENT

In 2017, the CNLTE, the Regional Child Labor Committees, and the National Bureau to Combat Human Trafficking lacked sufficient funding to effectively operate and coordinate efforts to address child labor. (33; 48; 35; 15; 31)

V. GOVERNMENT POLICIES ON CHILD LABOR

The government has established policies related to child labor (Table 9). However, policy gaps exist that hinder efforts to address child labor, including with funding and implementation.

Table 9. Key Policies Related to Child Labor[‡]

Policy	Description
National Action Plan to Eliminate the Worst Forms of Child Labor (2004–2019)	Aims to eliminate the worst forms of child labor by strengthening child labor laws, conducting awareness-raising campaigns, mobilizing funds for social programs, and updating databases on child labor. Led by the CNLTE. (8; 22; 53; 64) In 2017, conducted workshops with civil society to improve child protection systems in the regions of Atsinanana and Atsimo-Andrefana, and implemented a nationwide media campaign to raise awareness of child labor. (45)
National Action Plan to Combat Trafficking in Persons (2015–2019)	Seeks to enhance the legal framework to prevent human trafficking, effectively implement human trafficking laws, and provide protection and care for victims. Overseen by the National Bureau to Combat Human Trafficking. (2; 67; 70; 19) In 2017, provided training on anti-trafficking legislation, enforcement techniques, and victim identification to law enforcement agencies and civil society groups. (19; 48) However, reports indicated that the government did not provide sufficient funding to implement the plan in 2017. (19)
Code of Conduct for the Protection of Children in the Tourism Industry	Aims to prevent commercial sexual exploitation of children in the tourism industry. Implemented by the Ministry of Tourism and supported by the ILO and UNICEF. (71; 72; 73; 74) As of 2017, more than 1,000 tourism companies in 12 regions have signed the code of conduct, and eight regional action plans have been developed to implement the code. (19; 75; 59)
National Social Protection Policy	Aims to protect children from abuse, violence, and exploitation and promotes improved access to education and livelihood services for vulnerable children. Led by the Ministry of Population, Social Protection and the Promotion of Women and supported by international donors. (76; 77; 78; 4) In 2017, the government adopted a law that establishes a common fund to leverage public and private funding for social protection programs, including cash transfer programs to increase education for children from vulnerable households. (79; 80)
National Development Plan (2015–2019)	Aims to promote sustainable development and social equality. Overseen by the Ministry of Economy and Planning and supported by the ILO's Decent Work Country Program. (81; 82; 4) Includes a budget of $83,000 to specifically combat commercial sexual exploitation of children and child labor in domestic work, mining, quarrying, and other hazardous sectors. (2; 33; 81; 82; 83)
Education Sector Plan (2018–2022) [†]	Aims to expand access to education and improve the quality of education. Overseen by the Ministry of Education. (47; 19; 10; 84)

[†] Policy was approved during the reporting period.

[‡] The government had other policies that may have addressed child labor issues or had an impact on child labor. (82; 85)

VI. SOCIAL PROGRAMS TO ADDRESS CHILD LABOR

In 2017, the government funded and participated in programs that include the goal of eliminating or preventing child labor (Table 10). However, gaps exist in these social programs, including with the adequacy to address the problem in all sectors.

Table 10. Key Social Programs to Address Child Labor[‡]

Program	Description
Project Supporting Sustainable and Child Labor Free Vanilla-Growing Communities in Sava (2016–2020)	USDOL-funded $4 million project implemented by the ILO that aims to reduce child labor in the vanilla-producing areas of the Sava Region. (86; 4; 87) In 2017, convened key stakeholders from national- and local-level government and the vanilla industry to identify areas in which to improve implementation of the Code of Conduct of Vanilla Producers. (86; 19; 10) Additional information is available on the USDOL website.
UNICEF Country Program (2015–2019)	$197,815 UNICEF-funded program that supports the government's efforts to improve education, health, nutrition, and protection for children in Madagascar. (88) In 2017, worked with the Ministry of Population, Social Protection and the Promotion of Women to provide services to 1,500 vulnerable households with children who have been victims of exploitation, including 1,476 child labor victims, and with the Ministry of Education to expand access to education in areas affected by Cyclone Enawo and the pneumonic and bubonic plague outbreaks. (89; 19; 59) Also, implements a program to combat commercial sexual exploitation of children in the regions of Diana, Nosy Be, Atsimo-Andrefana, Toliara, and Mangily. (90)

Program	Description
Social Support and Reintegration Centers†	Government program that provides social and reintegration services for victims of child labor. Includes the Manjary Soa Center and the Vonjy Centers in Antananarivo, Toamasina, and two newly opened centers in Nosy Be and Mahajanga.* (91; 19; 3) In 2017, the Manjary Soa Center hosted 37 children withdrawn from exploitative child labor. (19; 59)
Public Investment Program for Social Action†	$34,700 Ministry of Civil Services and Labor program that supports school attendance and training for street children. In 2017, provided 35 children with educational and vocational services. (21; 53; 47)
Cash Transfer Program (2017–2019)*†	$35 million Ministry of Population, Social Protection and the Promotion of Women program, supported by the World Bank and UNICEF, that aims to provide cash assistance for families with school-age children, conditioned on children’s school attendance. Aims to benefit 3,500 households in the south of Madagascar. (19; 92; 93)
Education for All Programs (2015–2019)	Government of Norway- and World Bank-funded projects that aim to improve the quality of and access to primary education, and provide school feeding programs in the southern regions of Androy, Anosy, and Atsimo-Andrefana. Led by the Ministry of Education. (53; 94; 95) In 2017, built 230 schools and supported the development of the new Education Sector Plan. (96)

* Program was launched during the reporting period.

† Program is funded by the Government of Madagascar.

‡ The government had other social programs that may have included the goal of eliminating or preventing child labor. (97; 98; 99; 90)

Research found that basic health and social services available to victims of the worst forms of child labor are not adequate to meet current needs. (8; 19; 47; 15; 3) Although Madagascar has programs that target child labor, the scope of these programs is insufficient to address the extent of the problem, particularly in agriculture, commercial sexual exploitation, domestic work, and mining. (8; 21; 53; 35)

VII. SUGGESTED GOVERNMENT ACTIONS TO ELIMINATE CHILD LABOR

Based on the reporting above, suggested actions are identified that would advance the elimination of child labor in Madagascar (Table 11).

Table 11. Suggested Government Actions to Eliminate Child Labor

Area	Suggested Action	Year(s) Suggested

	Ensure that existing databases function to gather enforcement data on child labor, including by providing adequate funding.	2009 – 2017
Coordination	Ensure that the CNLTE, the CRLTE, and the National Bureau to Combat Human Trafficking receive adequate funding to effectively operate and coordinate to fulfill their missions.	2014 – 2017
Government Policies	Ensure that appropriate funding exists to effectively implement the National Action Plan to Combat Trafficking in Persons.	2016 – 2017

	Ensure that social protection systems have adequate funding and staff to provide appropriate services to victims of the worst forms of child labor.	2014 – 2017
	Expand the scope of programs to address child labor in agriculture and the worst forms of child labor in agriculture, commercial sexual exploitation, domestic work, and mining.	2014 – 2017
