

In 2018, Burundi made a minimal advancement in efforts to eliminate the worst forms of child labor. The government hired additional labor inspectors, more than doubling the number of those employed to enforce labor laws across the country. However, children in Burundi engage in the worst forms of child labor, including in commercial sexual exploitation, sometimes as a result of human trafficking. Children also perform dangerous tasks in agriculture. Burundi lacks a compulsory education age that is equal to the minimum age for work. The government's ability to address the worst forms of child labor was constrained by a lack of necessary resources to conduct labor inspections and criminal investigations, a lack of well-trained educators, materials, and infrastructure in the education sector, and insufficient social programs to address child labor in the country.

I. PREVALENCE AND SECTORAL DISTRIBUTION OF CHILD LABOR

Children in Burundi engage in the worst forms of child labor, including in commercial sexual exploitation, sometimes as a result of human trafficking. Children also perform dangerous tasks in agriculture. (1-6) Table 1 provides key indicators on children's work and education in Burundi.

Table 1. Statistics on Children's Work and Education

Children	Age	Percent
Working (% and population)	5 to 14	27.2 (633,126)
Attending School (%)	5 to 14	60.9
Combining Work and School (%)	7 to 14	26.0
Primary Completion Rate (%)		70.4

Source for all other data: International Labor Organization's analysis of statistics from Demographic and Health Survey, 2010–2011. (8)

Based on a review of available information, Table 2 provides an overview of children's work by sector and activity.

Sector/Industry	Activity
Categorical Worst Forms of Child Labor‡	Commercial sexual exploitation, sometimes as a result of human trafficking (1-4,11,13,15)
	Domestic work as a result of human trafficking (11,15)
	Forced labor in agriculture, mining, charcoal production, construction, street vending, and begging, each sometimes as a result of human trafficking (2,11,15)

† Determined by national law or regulation as hazardous and, as such, relevant to Article 3(d) of ILO C. 182.

‡ Child labor understood as the worst forms of child labor per se under Article 3(a)–(c) of ILO C. 182.

Burundi is one of the poorest countries in the world, with more than 90 percent of its citizens engaged in subsistence agriculture, and approximately 80 percent of the workforce employed in the informal economy. (2,16,17) Burundian children are trafficked within the country, often from rural areas, for domestic work and commercial sexual exploitation. (6,15,16) Women who offer room and board to children sometimes force the children into commercial sexual exploitation to pay expenses. (15,18) Burundian girls are also trafficked internationally for commercial sexual exploitation in Kenya, the Middle East, Rwanda, and Uganda. (11,15,19) Evidence also suggests that children are trafficked to Tanzania for work in agriculture and domestic work. (2,11,15,17,20)

Although the government abolished school fees in 2012, the cost of books and uniforms has prevented many children from accessing free public schooling. A dearth of well-trained educators and poor infrastructure has also limited educational opportunity. Moreover, because birth certificates are required to attend school, many unregistered children, in particular children of the Batwa ethnic group, remain out of school and vulnerable to child labor. (2,10,16,21)

II. LEGAL FRAMEWORK FOR CHILD LABOR

Burundi has ratified all key international conventions concerning child labor (Table 3).

Table 3. Ratification of International Conventions on Child Labor

Convention	Ratification
 ILO C. 138, Minimum Age	✓
 ILO C. 182, Worst Forms of Child Labor	✓
 UN CRC	✓
 UN CRC Optional Protocol on Armed Conflict	✓
 UN CRC Optional Protocol on the Sale of Children, Child Prostitution and Child Pornography	✓
 Palermo Protocol on Trafficking in Persons	✓

The government has established laws and regulations related to child labor (Table 4). However, gaps exist in Burundi’s legal framework to adequately protect children from the worst forms of child labor, including the lack of a compulsory education age through the minimum age for work.

Table 4. Laws and Regulations on Child Labor

Standard	Meets International Standards	Age	Legislation
Minimum Age for Work	No	16	Article 3 of the Labor Code; Article 3 of the Ministerial Ordinance to Regulate Child Labor (22,23)
Minimum Age for Hazardous Work	Yes	18	Article 13 of the Ministerial Ordinance to Regulate Child Labor (23)

Standard	Meets International Standards	Age	Legislation
Identification of Hazardous Occupations or Activities Prohibited for Children	Yes		Articles 9–15 of the Ministerial Ordinance to Regulate Child Labor (23)
Prohibition of Forced Labor	Yes		Articles 4 and 10 of the Trafficking in Persons Law (24)
Prohibition of Child Trafficking	Yes		Articles 244–246 and 537 of the Penal Code; Articles 4-6 and 10 of the Trafficking in Persons Law (24,25)
Prohibition of Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children	Yes		Articles 542–544 of the Penal Code; Article 10 of the Trafficking in Persons Law (24,25)
Prohibition of Using Children in Illicit Activities	No
Minimum Age for Voluntary State Military Recruitment	Yes	18	Article 6(c) of the National Defense Troops Law (26)
Prohibition of Compulsory Recruitment of Children by (State) Military	N/A*
Prohibition of Military Recruitment by Non-state Armed Groups	No		Articles 200.2.27 and 200.5.7 of the Penal Code (25)
Compulsory Education Age	No	12	Legislation title unknown (10)
Free Public Education	Yes		Article 17 of the Law on Basic and Secondary Education (27)

* No conscription (26)

The Labor Code prohibits work by children under age 16 in public and private enterprises; however, the law's minimum age protections do not apply to children outside of formal employment relationships. (22,28,29) The Penal Code does not prohibit the use of children in the production and trafficking of narcotics. (25) Although the Constitution prohibits the use of children in armed conflict, the Penal Code criminalizes only the use of children under age 15 in armed conflict, leaving children between the ages of 15 and 18 vulnerable to the worst forms of child labor. (25,30) However, Burundian law does prohibit the recruitment of children under age 18 by the state armed forces, and available evidence indicates that the government continued to comply with this provision. (2,16,17)

In addition, the prohibitions against hazardous work are not comprehensive, including in agriculture, an area of work in which there is evidence of children working with dangerous machinery, equipment, and tools. (11,23) Education in Burundi is not compulsory through the minimum age for work, and research did not uncover a public version of the law establishing compulsory education. (10,31)

III. ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS ON CHILD LABOR

The government has established institutional mechanisms for the enforcement of laws and regulations on child labor (Table 5). However, gaps exist within the operations of the Ministry of Public Service, Labor, and Social Security that may hinder adequate enforcement of their child labor laws.

Table 5. Agencies Responsible for Child Labor Law Enforcement

Organization/Agency	Role
Ministry of Public Service, Labor, and Social Security	Administers and enforces all labor laws, including those on child labor, through the General Directorate of Labor and Professional Development. (32)
Ministry of Public Security	Conducts criminal investigations on the worst forms of child labor, including forced child labor, child trafficking, and the use of children in illicit activities. (1,3) Through the National Police's Brigade for Minors and Morals, protects children from commercial sexual exploitation, illicit activity, and military recruitment. (1,2,11,17)
Ministry of Justice	Prosecutes cases of the worst forms of child labor through its General Prosecutor's Office. (2,11,13)

(33) Refers cases to police officers and judicial officials for enforcement through its 89 Child Protection Committees at local levels; victims are referred to local NGOs for social services. (20,34)

Labor Law Enforcement

In 2018, labor law enforcement agencies in Burundi took actions to combat child labor (Table 6). However, gaps exist within the operations of the Ministry of Public Service, Labor, and Social Security that may hinder adequate labor law enforcement, including an insufficient number of labor inspectors.

Table 6. Labor Law Enforcement Efforts Related to Child Labor

Overview of Labor Law Enforcement	2017	2018

Unannounced Inspections Conducted	No (11)	No (2)

Reciprocal Referral Mechanism Exists Between Labor Authorities and Social Services	Yes (11)	Yes (2)

The government increased the number of employed labor inspectors from 11 to 35 through the reassignment of other civil servants in the Ministry of Public Service, Labor, and Employment. (2) However, the number of labor inspectors is likely insufficient for the size of Burundi's workforce, which includes approximately 5 million workers. According to the ILO's technical advice of a ratio approaching 1 inspector for every 40,000 workers in less developed economies, Burundi would employ about 125 inspectors. (36,37) Research found that financial constraints hamper the General Directorate of Labor and Professional Development's enforcement of child labor laws, because annual funding does not cover fuel costs, per diem, or office supplies, and, furthermore, the labor inspectorate does not own any vehicles. (10,11,18,38) The government did not provide information on its labor inspectorate funding or the number of labor inspections conducted at worksites for inclusion in this report. (18)

Criminal Law Enforcement

In 2018, criminal law enforcement agencies in Burundi took actions to combat child labor (Table 7). However, gaps exist within the operations of the criminal enforcement agencies that may hinder adequate criminal law enforcement, including the lack of published information on the criminal enforcement of child labor law.

Table 7. Criminal Law Enforcement Efforts Related to Child Labor

Overview of Criminal Law Enforcement	2017	2018
Initial Training for New Criminal Investigators	No (11)	Unknown (2)
Training on New Laws Related to the Worst Forms of Child Labor	N/A (11)	Unknown (2)

Number of Violations Found	Unknown (35)	Unknown (2)
Number of Prosecutions Initiated	0 (11)	Unknown (2)
Number of Convictions	0 (11)	Unknown (2)
Imposed Penalties for Violations Related to The Worst Forms of Child Labor	Unknown	Unknown (18)
Reciprocal Referral Mechanism Exists Between Criminal Authorities and Social Services	No (11)	Yes (2)

The Ministry of Public Security refers cases to the Ministry of National Solidarity, Human Rights and Gender, which then sends the child to one of four specialized centers in the country that takes care of the child's psychological, medical and legal needs or to civil society service providers. (2) In December 2018, the International Organization for Migration trained 25 judicial police officers on the international and national legal framework, the differences between human trafficking and smuggling, protection and assistance to victims (including children), procedures for interviewing victims and witnesses, the rights of suspects, and investigation techniques. Training remains reliant on international organizations and donor funding. (2,17,34)

The government did not provide information on its criminal law enforcement efforts for inclusion in this report. (18)

IV. COORDINATION OF GOVERNMENT EFFORTS ON CHILD LABOR

The government has established mechanisms to coordinate its efforts to address child labor (Table 8). However, gaps exist that may hinder the effective coordination of efforts to address child labor, including non-operational coordination mechanisms.

Table 8. Key Mechanisms to Coordinate Government Efforts on Child Labor

Coordinating Body	Role & Description
National Multi-Sector Committee for the Elimination of the Worst Forms of Child Labor	Coordinates efforts to combat the worst forms of child labor, including implementation of community development programs that address the education and socioeconomic reintegration of children engaged in or removed from the worst forms of child labor. (32,39) Includes nine ministries, including the Ministry of Labor, organizations and representatives from UNICEF, youth associations, and civil society organizations. (3) Research was unable to determine whether activities were undertaken during the reporting period.
Ad Hoc Committee for Consultation and Monitoring on the Prevention and Suppression of Trafficking in Persons	Oversees national anti-trafficking in persons efforts, including implementation of the National Action Plan for Combating Trafficking in Persons, with a more formal entity instead of the current ad hoc structure called for in legislation. (15,17,34,35,40) Includes officials from the Ministry of National Solidarity, Human Rights, and Gender, and the Ministries of Justice, Public Security, Foreign Affairs, and Interior. (3) In 2018, the ad hoc committee, in partnership with the International Organization for Migration, formalized the new National Action Plan for Trafficking in Persons. (34)

V. GOVERNMENT POLICIES ON CHILD LABOR

The government has established policies related to child labor (Table 9). However, policy gaps exist that may hinder efforts to address child labor, including inactive and expired policies.

MINIMAL ADVANCEMENT

Table 9. Key Policies Related to Child Labor

Policy	Description
National Action Plan for Combating Trafficking in Persons (2019–2020) †	Aims to significantly reduce human trafficking in Burundi by 2020 through the adoption of political, social, economic, and institutional measures. Identifies women and children as being the most vulnerable to human trafficking, noting sectors of high prevalence and human trafficker profiles. (34,41)

† Policy was approved during the reporting period.

‡ The government had other policies that may have addressed child labor issues or had an impact on child labor. (42,43)

The government has not taken steps to renew the expired National Revised Action Plan for the Fight Against the Worst Forms of Child Labor during the reporting period. (2)

VI. SOCIAL PROGRAMS TO ADDRESS CHILD LABOR

In 2018, the government funded and participated in programs that include the goal of eliminating or preventing child labor (Table 10). However, gaps exist in these social programs, including the adequacy of programs to address the full scope of the problem in all sectors.

Table 10. Key Social Programs to Address Child Labor

Program	Description
Centers for Family Development†	Ministry of National Solidarity, Human Rights, and Gender-operated centers that address human rights issues, including child exploitation, and reintegrate victims in their home communities. Coordinate with Child Protection Committees to refer victims to local NGOs for care, when necessary. (20) In 2018, research was unable to determine whether activities were undertaken.
“Back to School” Campaign†	UNICEF and the Ministry of Education “Back to School” campaign to promote equitable access and retention in school for 2.6 million basic education students, half of them girls. (44) In 2018, project efforts focused on strengthening capacity of community agents in mobilization, analyzing the causes of school dropout, and creating community structures, such as clubs, mentorships, and networks, to ensure re-enrollment in school. (34)

† Program is funded by the Government of Burundi.

Research found no evidence that the government has carried out programs to assist children working in agriculture or victims of commercial sexual exploitation. Further, the scope of existing programs is insufficient to fully address the extent of the child labor problem.

VII. SUGGESTED GOVERNMENT ACTIONS TO ELIMINATE CHILD LABOR

Based on the reporting above, suggested actions are identified that would advance the elimination of child labor in Burundi (Table 11).
