Global Career Levels

- Global career levels are a set of broad, hierarchical categories related to the level at which a job is performed.
- Responsibilities, contribution and job complexity increase from one job level to the next in the hierarchy.
- The global career level structure has two paths: Management (M1-M10) and Individual Contributor (IC0 – IC6). There is no correlation between M and IC level.

Salary Ranges

Job Code ➔ Salary Grade ➔ Salary Range

- Salary ranges are a tool to assist managers in making decisions about pay
  - Broad ranges allow managers to account for differences in experience, skills, competencies and performance of candidates and incumbents
  - Salary ranges are developed at the country level
    - Some countries may have multiple ranges because of within country pay differences
      - US – HQ and Non-HQ
  - Salary ranges are developed locally using 3rd party salary survey information
    - Market data is reviewed relative to the particular job and it is typical to find a variance between functions. For instance, market data for the sales function differs when compared to market data for the support function.
Understanding Salary Ranges

Several factors should be considered to position pay:

Performance
- Experience
- Knowledge
- Skill

Market (External Equity)

In relation to

Peers (Internal Equity)

Employees who are fully experienced, competent and solid performers

Employees whose contribution is exceptionally high or ready for a promotion

Base Salary – Compa-Ratio

- Compa-Ratio is the ratio of the employee’s salary to the midpoint of their job’s salary range.
- Example:

  Annual salary - $52,000
  Local salary range midpoint - $49,718
  Compa-ratio = Employee salary ÷ Range Midpoint x 100
  = $52,000 ÷ $49,718 x 100
  = 104.5

- How do we use Compa-Ratio?
  - Salary benchmarking of peers in role
  - International transfers between two countries
  - Periodic salary reviews
Sales – Pay Mix

Base Pay

An employee may impact based on their performance

ATV
(Annual Target Variable)

Standard targets based on influence over sales outcomes

OTE
(On-Target Earnings)

- Global Incentive Comp (GIC) Team
- Standard v. Non-Standard Pay Mix
Pay Decisions
General Principles of Managing Pay

- Compensation and benefits must be in line with the standard for the job
- Balance external and internal equity
- Consider the relevant knowledge, skills, abilities and experience of the employee
- Differentiate rewards by performance but manage within your budget
- Be honest and open with communications on rewards and performance
- These principles apply globally
New Hires

- When posting a position
  - Choose the correct job family and career level
    - Most closely reflects the role and level of the work required
- When determining an offer
  - Make final determination of correct career level for the candidate – may differ from level of posting – one level up or down
    - Based on experience and skill set of candidate
  - Review salary range for proposed position and salary range position of existing incumbents in work group
  - Understand variable pay plan, if any eligibility
  - Review candidate and proposed package with HRBP prior to making candidate offer
Scenario #1
New Hire – Choosing a Career Level and Salary

- Position posted as a M4
  - Will have 4 reports – 1 IC3, 2 IC4s and 1 IC5

- Candidate has 10 years experience including 2 years management experience

- Key factors in determining career level
  - Job Scope
  - Candidate’s experience

- Key factors in determining starting salary
  - Peer salaries with similar skills, experience, and job
  - Local market salary data to ensure offer competitiveness
Scenario #2
New Hire – Choosing a Career Level and Salary

- Position posted as a M2
  - Will not have any direct reports

- Candidate has 7 years experience including 1 year management experience

- Key factors in determining career level
  - Job Scope
  - Candidate’s experience
  - Number of direct reports

*Taleo postings may be adjusted up or down one level from what was posted. It must be within the same IC or M career track. You cannot adjust across career tracks.
Promotions

- A promotion is typically a move to a new job with greater responsibility and impact to the company.
  - Some promotions are within the same job family and career path and
  - Others can be to a new job family or career path
- Promotions are not always accompanied by a salary increase
  - Salary should, however, be appropriately positioned in new salary range
Promotions

- Key factors for IC promotions
  - Skills, experience, and performance of the employee
  - Scope of the job

- For promotions from IC to Manager
  - No direct mapping between paths
  - Consider scope of the job and previous management experience to determine level

- Key factors for Management promotions
  - Scope of job and business need for job at new level
  - Experience, performance, and results of the employee
Polling Question

Under which situation would you feel a promotion is appropriate?

A. An employee has been in the same grade for quite awhile and is due a promotion
B. I'm concerned the employee may leave the organization
C. The salary of my employee appears to be low and by giving them a promotion I get a chance to increase it
D. An employee mentions to you that a colleague next to them is doing the same job but has a higher career level. They've asked to be promoted.
E. None of the above

TEAMWORK AND INFLUENCE WITHIN ORACLE
Internal Transfers

- The starting point for transfers should be lateral – salary and career level
  - Internal transfers should not be used as means to increase salaries
  - However, if the new role has a change in pay mix or there is a change to job family, some adjustment may be appropriate
Scenario - Internal Transfer

- I have an internal candidate I would like to hire but he will only transfer if I promote him.
- He has the exact skill set I need for my group and we desperately need the help.
- I'm going to tell him that I'll promote him and give him a salary bump to ensure he accepts my offer.
International Transfers

- A cross border transfer is a permanent move from one country to another
- Only employees who have unique or highly specialized skills are considered for this type of transfer
- You should pay appropriately in the new country. Don’t simply transfer at the current salary converted to the new currency
- Pay levels for the same job differ from country to country even where currency is the same
  - In Europe several countries use the Euro but have different salary ranges
- Generally, lateral move with no change in career level

- To determine appropriate salary for international transfer transferring to the same position in a new country use the employee's current compa-ratio and keep it constant in the salary range of the new country.
  - This methodology places the salary at the same position in range in the new country as in the old country
  - If employee's current compa-ratio is extremely high or extremely low it may be appropriate to use the new peer group to place the salary appropriately
  - Don’t convert the current salary to the new currency
  - If transfer is into a completely different job family, then determine salary as if a new hire

- Compa-ratio = current salary / midpoint of salary range
Off-Cycle Salary Increases

- An off cycle increase may be needed for:
  - Competitive counter offer (Dive and Save)
  - Job change with change to the variable pay plan
- Off Cycle increases in FY17 – limited
- Always Consult your HR Business Partner
Workflow Justifications

- An effective justification should include:
  - New Hires/Transfers
    - Description of the job and the business need for it
    - Skills and experience of the candidate and how they meet the requirements of the job
    - Data used to determine salary offer
  - Off-Cycle Promotions
    - Attach relevant information on the scope of the new job
    - If an increase is proposed, position in new salary range and comparison to peers
  - Dive and Saves
    - Performance and results
    - Impact to business if employee leaves organization

- Justifications should be thorough yet concise and be based on facts, not feelings
Recap

- Each situation should be reviewed on a case-by-case basis but the principles should be applied as consistently as possible
- There are no absolute right or wrong or "one size fits all" answers
- Look at the whole picture, not just the position in the salary grade
  - Internal equity
  - Skills, Knowledge, Competencies, etc.
- Reasons for the decision should be documented
- The salary and benefits should be set correctly for the new position
- The increase/change in status should not be backdated
- When in doubt, consult your HR Business Partner
