Welcome to New Recruiter On-boarding!
Summary of Comments on Slide 1

Welcome to New Recruiter On-Boarding! We are excited to finally have you on the team.

During the course of the next couple of days we will be covering a lot of content. Our goal is simple: we want you to walk away from this training with enough knowledge and comfort around our processes, policies and systems to start recruiting. We don’t expect you to master all of this content in a few days, but our hope is that we lay a solid foundation in which you can scale from.

We recognize that learning new systems/processes/procedures, at any company, can be daunting. It’s with that understanding that we’ve developed a comprehensive onboarding to help ease some of the pain that comes along with learning a new organization. Please know we are here to help and we are confident that we will get you up to speed quickly.

Let’s get started!
Why Oracle Recruitment? — Top 10 Reasons

1. Ex Agency/Competitor Recruiters
2. Specific Industry Knowledge
3. Local Experience
4. Focus on Customer Satisfaction
5. Delivering Recruitment Value
6. Strong Partnership Ecosystem
7. Saving on the “Cost to Hire”
8. Clear Long Term Vision for Oracle
9. Understanding of the Business
10. Confidentiality
One of many things that you'll find unique to Oracle's Internal Recruiting team is that we employ recruiters with both recruiting agency and corporate recruiting experience. Many of the recruiters within our organization come from our direct competitors and have an average of 10+ years recruitment experience.

Our primary job as recruiters at Oracle is to source the best talent available in the market.

Oracle Internal Recruiting is strongly positioned to identify the best talent in the market place as we have specific industry and vertical domain knowledge. As a recruiter, you will be assigned to specific hiring managers within a line of business (LOB). As you grow in your role, you will gain a specialized knowledge with regard to that LOB. You will have knowledge with regard to the types of projects the business works on as well as a strong cultural understanding of the business. Long-term engagement with an LOB empowers the recruiter to learn the business at a much deeper level and form meaningful relationships with the hiring teams. This enables our recruiters to go deep and broad with their respective searches, candidates and hiring managers.

We are focused on providing high quality touches with the business with a focus on customer satisfaction. The managers, our partners, evaluate us after ever hire. There is a survey that is presented to the hiring manager and they provide feedback.

We deliver recruitment value to the organization. We are a complete in house recruiting model.

We work effectively by partnering closely with and delivering significant value add to the business. We view ourselves as strategic business partners to our hiring managers.

Our in house model, provides a huge cost savings to the organization. The charge back that we have to the business is significantly less than what the organization would have if agencies were used.

The recruitment team has a clear long term vision for Oracle and we have an understanding of the business. We add value in that we know how to sell Oracle to our perspectives candidates.

Lastly, we provide a degree of confidentiality to managers. Managers come to our team and at times they require discretion. Perhaps they are replacing someone or they are working on a new project and need additional team members. As recruiters, we assist our partners in maintaining a level of discretion.
Recruiting Methodology

Methodology
I – R – Q – E – O – C
Our recruiting methodology is split into two separate pieces. The Recruiter owns the front end of the recruiting process, which includes: Identifying, Recruiting, and Qualifying the Candidate. Where as the Hiring Manager is responsible for the backend of the process, which includes: Evaluating the candidates provided by the recruiter, Submitting the Offer, and Closing out the non-selected candidates. This Methodology allows the Recruiter to spend quality time seeking out top talent.

It’s important to note, that the first step of this process is for the hiring manager to inform us of their opening, and to provide a detailed job description so that you, as the recruiter, can identify and attract top talent for the opening. This information should include detailed information on how to properly position and sell the opportunity to all candidates.

We bring top candidates to the hiring manager so they can proceed to hire the best person for thier org by evaluating, offering and closing out the best hire.
Expectations of the Recruiter

Recruiting Focus

I-Identify
Recruiter identifies prospective candidates from the market by using multiple tools

R-Recruit
Once top talent has been identified the recruiter contacts and presents the opportunity to the prospective candidates.

Q-Qualify
Those interested in the opportunity are qualified prior to presentation to the hiring manager.
First let's talk a little bit more about the expectations of the recruiter. After you have gathered the vacancy requirements from the Hiring Manager, you will begin identifying potential candidates. This is done by Lead Generation. You will use several resources such as Networking for Employee Referrals, Taleo mining, Web 2.0 Social Networking, Calling into competitors, etc.

After candidates have been identified, you will then work the pipeline of candidates that you have identified and begin to sell them on the company and opportunity.

Once the candidates are interested in pursuing the opportunity, you will then conduct a full screen of the candidate, and qualify them against the requirements of the position.

After qualifying the candidate, you will submit the pre-screened candidate to the Hiring Manager for review. A submittal is how you sell your candidate to the Hiring Manager and must include the candidate's resume' and your candidate's profile summary.

Important: The profile summary contains notes about your conversation with the candidate: how he or she matches the req, years of experience in certain skills, how he or she will impact the team, relevant projects and achievements, availability to start at Oracle, current and expected salary expectations. The profile summary should be well written and reviewed for spelling and grammatical errors. Details are important as your submittal can often be the determining factor in the Hiring Manager's decision to proceed or not to.

Your email to the HM, with the résumé and summary should contain a bulleted summary in the text clearly showing why a HM should spend time to interview the candidate. It may be a good idea to follow up with an immediate call to the HM as well.

Important: The candidate's resume' also needs to be neat and free of misspellings and grammatical errors.

We ask that the Hiring Manager provide feedback to the recruiter within 24 hours of receiving the candidate submittal.

If the Hiring Manager is interested in proceeding with an onsite interview after completing the initial phone screen, we would then move on to the Manager responsibilities.

Important: Do not be pressured to submit low quality candidates who do not properly fit the profile. Our role is to add value by only submitting the highest quality. This shows respect for the HMs time as well as the candidates' time.
The hiring manager confirms acceptance with the candidate regarding the offer.

The hiring manager prepares an offer for a candidate commensurate with compensation position guidelines.

A hiring manager phone screens or conducts one or multiple interviews with the pre-qualified candidates delivered to them by the Oracle recruiter.

Manager Focus

E-Evaluate

O-Offer

C-Close
It is the Hiring Manager’s responsibility to schedule the onsite interview to further evaluate the candidates qualifications. HM’s can utilize recruiting operations schedulers if they chose to.

The Hiring Manager is asked to provide a Go/No Go decision within 24 hours of completing the onsite interview. As a guideline, the Hiring Manager should attempt to conduct a full evaluation of all candidates within 7-10 business days. With the competitive employment market, and in consideration of our offer approval process, it’s imperative that we make swift movement with all candidates.

Once the Hiring Manager has selected a Finalist for the position, it is the Hiring Managers responsibility to Check the Candidate References, negotiate the Offer with Candidate, and submit the offer via Taleo/GSI. Either the HM or the recruiter should provide a verbal “whisper” offer to the candidate prior to the offer submittal. The recruiter can assist the HM in verbal negotiations with the candidate prior to submitting via candidate workflow.

The HM should not delay in submitting the offer into workflow. Lastly, The HM is responsible for extending regrets to all non-selected candidates.

Even though these are the expectations of the Hiring Manager, you will be there to support them throughout the entire recruiting process.
Recruitment Process
And that of course is - The Recruitment process

In this section I am going to walk you through the different steps that any manager within this organization should follow in order hire the best talented people in the market.
Recruitment Process

1. Headcount Approval Process
2. Contact Recruitment with the new vacancy
3. Hiring Manager and Recruiter Kick-off Call
4. Sourcing / Short Listing / Interviewing
5. Offer Approval Process
6. Issue of Letter of Employment
7. Closing out unsuccessful candidates

Please Note: Recruitment agencies may not be used as a source of candidates. In rare exceptional occasions recruitment agencies may be engaged but only after written approval has been obtained via the recruitment team from the VP Recruitment NA.
As mentioned earlier, the recruitment process is hiring manager’s responsibility, and it is up to the hiring manager to engage with recruitment early and continuously while filling open vacancies.

We will go through this process in a little more detail in the coming slides but in essence the major steps in the recruitment process are:

- Headcount Approval Process
- Contact Recruitment with the new vacancy
- Hiring Manager and Recruiter Kick-off Call
- Sourcing / Short Listing / Interviewing
- Offer Approval Process
- Issue of Letter of Employment
- Closing out unsuccessful candidates

Recruitment Process – Steps to Follow

Identifying a recruitment need
- Manager contacts recruiting manager or recruiter with a recruitment need
- Initiate approval process for the vacancy (EMEA only)
- Provide your recruiter with a job description and key selling points
- Hiring Manager creates vacancy in Oracle Recruiting and recruiter begins to source candidates
- Posts job external & internally
- Proactively Search for top talent
- Searches market for passive candidates

Recruiter screens & qualifies candidates
- Supplies top talent candidates to the HM

Communication with the recruiter
- Hiring manager conducts phone & face to face interviews
- Hiring manager informs recruitment with the outcome of the interviews
- Recruiter notifies all candidates of their outcome – closes process
- Hiring manager enters the offer into iRecruitment
This is a data flow diagram of what the recruitment process looks like.

Once the manager has gained approved headcount, the manager will contact their recruiter or will reach out to someone on the recruitment management team who will assign the task to a recruiter.

The hiring manager must then work with the recruiter to provide detailed information in relation to the Job Description, top selling features, and any possible source companies or potential referrals for the role.

The recruiter will then begin sourcing for this role using a variety of channels such as, headhunting, networking, social networks, internal database, job boards, etc. We will screen these candidates and provide the manager with a suitable list of talent which we will expect the manager to interview in a timely fashion.

Once this has been completed, the manager will work with their recruiter to close out all non-selected candidates and to proceed through the offer process with the selected hire.
Pre-Employment Background Checks

Oracle’s pre-employment process requires candidates to complete a background check, and provided below are a few critical points about this process.

• Applicant resumes should be up-to-date and accurate. Their profile in the Oracle Recruiting Cloud should also match the information presented on their resume, and be entirely accurate. We have included instructional tips and an attestation regarding Oracle’s background check process and the expected accuracy of the information being provided to Oracle in the new Oracle Recruiting Cloud.

• The background screening will used to verify all of the information presented on the applicant’s resume, including education (highest degree listed) and work experience. In addition, Oracle will conduct a criminal background check, in accordance with local, state and federal legislation and guidance.

• The background screening process will begin after a candidate has been selected for a position and just after an offer has been submitted for management approval. The screening process will run in parallel with the offer approval process.

• Recruiters should inform the applicants during their initial contact that the background check is mandatory and not a formality. The highest degree obtained and employment must be verifiable, exactly as presented on the applicant’s resume.
Pre-Employment Background Checks

Oracle’s pre-employment process requires candidates to complete a background check, and provided below are a few critical points about this process.

• Recruiters can communicate the background check process to the applicant by stating the following, “All of the information presented in your application (forms, profile and resume) will be submitted for verification during the background check process. Please make sure your resume is current and accurate before uploading. Oracle reviews background check results very closely and on a case-by-case basis. If you are selected for a position at Oracle and we are unable to verify the information provided on your resume, and in our recruiting application, we may not be able to extend you an offer of employment.”

• Oracle’s screening program strives for consistency but acknowledges that no two situations are alike. Each screening report is reviewed and assessed individually. If the Background Check group is unable to verify the applicant’s education or work experience exactly as it has been presented on their resume, we will work very closely with the applicant to ensure we understand the situation; but please be advised that if the results do not meet Oracle guidelines, the individual may not be hired.

• Applicants who have been previously disqualified due to their background check may still apply to positions at Oracle. Hiring managers and/or recruiters do not have access to current or prior screening results; however, Oracle HR’s Background Check group may consider prior screening results as part of its background check process. If a candidate has specific questions about a previous disqualification, please contact us at bgcheck_us@oracle.com.

• Any questions or concerns? Please contact bgcheck_us@oracle.com for more information. Or Kaye Little or Kacey Heal for escalations.
Employee Referral Program

Why
- Hire quality candidates
- Increase candidate pool
- Increase probability of cultural fit and Oracle skills

How
- Talk to employees and candidates
- Encourage new hires to bring their friends
- Weekly newsletters
- Encourage the managers to talk to their teams

30% of placements are through referral

Refer a Candidate through the Internal Candidate Portal
Employees Referral Program

In addition to our proactive recruiting efforts, another good source of hires is those who come through the internal referral process. They have been referred by an employee who knows Oracle and knows that this particular person will be a match for Oracle.

<Stop and Show Recruiter where this is located on our site, view Referral policy information on the website>

Last year, 30% of positions that were filled were made through the referral process. Candidates are referred through our Internal Taleo Candidate Portal.

Candidates can be referred to HMs and/or recruiters directly but audit verification requires email trails to prove the submittals. It is easier and more efficient for employees to refer candidates via the referral tool which requires no additional documentation for pay-out.
Rehire Policy

• Some LOB’s may have their own non-written re-hire practices

• Rehire Verification

  – Recruiter provides following information to HR Representative

    1. First Name, Last Name
    2. Dates of Employment
    3. Previous Oracle Manager
Former employees’ rehire eligibility should be checked by the recruiter via the Hiring Manager’s HR rep prior to engaging a candidate. Additionally, once interest in the candidate is established, recruiting should contact the candidate’s former Oracle manager or leader to insure that there is support for that candidate’s rehire.

Internal Offers
Internal Transfers

Internal candidates are normally required to have a minimum period of service in their current role, the length of this period will vary from country to country. Full details are available in Managers Resource Guide.
This is an overview of the internal hiring process. Recruitment is not involved with the internal hiring process. All of the activities involved in this process (i.e. manage the candidates and the completion of the internal transfer) are the responsibility of the HM.
Recruiter Variable Training and Discussion
In this section we will have a presentation from Operations to discuss in depth, the Recruiter Variable as well as have an open discussion on compensation.
My Oracle.com is your first stop for all things Oracle, and is your homepage by default. Here you will find company announcements and information. On the left hand side of the window you will have access to Employee Tools, Lines of Business, and Products & Services. Many of the links that you will use everyday can be found under Employee Tools. "Directory" is Oracle’s corporate directory. Here you can search for other employees and build your own profile.

You will also have access to "Communities". Within "Communities" you will have access to create and collaborate with others through workspaces, online conferencing and a variety of other tools.

The "Downloads" area is where you will find useful software applications that can be downloaded, or where you will find software upgrades.

On the "Support" site, you will have access to frequently asked questions and our support team. If you need to create a Service Request, you will go to this site. "Employee Relations" and "Mobile Services" is the location where you can set up your Smart/Mobile phone access for email, calendar, and find other useful remote access details.

"My Oracle University" is a new site for us here at Oracle. It is the Oracle version of YouTube and has information from our various groups and programs. "Recruitment" is the site that you will spend much of your time. This is the link where you will launch Oracle Recruiting (Taleo). This area also houses your employee information. Lastly, there is a link for travel which you will use to book hotels, airfare and rental cars if needed. You will more information on all of these sites as you move through your new hire checklist.
Accessing Your New Hire Checklist

- New Hire Site
  - Click
  - Answer the question prompts for a detailed corporate checklist
  * You will need your information which can be obtained from your manager.
You can access your new hire checklist on the Human Resources site or by clicking the link listed on the slide. You will need to click the [ ] link. You will need your [ ] in order to access this information. You can obtain this information from your manager. Once you have logged in, you will be provided with a short series of questions regarding your employment. Once your responses are submitted your personal checklist will be generated.
Accessing Your New Hire Checklist

• New Hire Site
  – The checklist will include details regarding activities to be completed on your First Day, First Week and First Month.
  – At the bottom of the page, you can print the list if you would like.
Your check list will be broken down into activities that you should complete on your first day, throughout your first week and your first month. This list will walk you through updating your access, setting up your employee information and email, and connecting you to Oracle corporate training information. At the bottom of the page, you will have the ability to print or save the list to your desktop.

< Stop and help the recruiter access the new hire checklist that they will need >
Recruiting Tools
Oracle recruiters use a variety of tools for identifying quality candidates as well as for claiming credit for new hires. Some of these are in-house and others such as LinkedIn are through vendor relationships. Let's explore the different tools you will have at your disposal.
Oracle Recruiting Cloud

• Cloud Based Recruiting Tool
• Applicant Tracking System
• Collaborative Tool
• User Friendly
• Access through Employee Self Service

Training Links:

Oracle Recruiting Cloud Training Site
Requisition Management
Candidate Process Flow
We have decided to adopt Taleo at Oracle because it is part of the Oracle Cloud Solutions product offerings. Oracle Taleo Recruiting is a highly collaborative tool. When you take the training, you will see how you and the hiring manager can work together on requisitions and how you can invite colleagues to assist you in reviewing and interviewing candidates. The system is very intuitive and user friendly. Taleo is used by Recruiting to close out all starts for variable pay-out. Your diligence and proficiency in using the system correctly is mandatory and in your best interest. Timely and accurate use of Taleo can help to minimize audits.

You will be trained on this tool as you complete your on boarding. Much of the training information can be found on the Oracle Recruiting Cloud Training Site. There you will find links to recorded demonstrations, self-paced trainings, FAQs, Walkthroughs, and Advanced Trainings. To get started, watch the requisition management and candidate process flow training.
Variable Information Module (VIM)
In addition to using Oracle Recruiting, you will use the Variable Information Module or VIM. The VIM is also used to claim your starts for placement credit.
Gaining VIM Access

• Role for VIM in order to access and claim starts in VIM

  Variable Information Module – for account

• Recruiter (Variable Information Module) – for role access

• The access request - workflow mails will be shared with the new Recruiter with a copy to their Recruiting manager

• Follow ups (if any) and future change in request will need to be managed by the respective Recruiter / Recruiting Manager
Your manager will request VIM access for you. Once your first hires get through the complete process, you need to check VIM daily to claim your starts. This is critical.

Sometimes new hires are loaded into VIM the day they start and sometimes it can take 4-5 business days. You should open a Service Request if starts do not appear in VIM after 5 business days.
< Take the time to explore the Global Recruiting Page. Show the Recruiter how to access the Regional Recruiting Website and address region specific policies while on site. >
Recruitment Branding

- Recruitment Branding Site
  - Information on our Branding
  - Social Media Branding Policy
  - Communication Templates
  - Powerpoint
  - Images
Recruitment Branding, we have tons of information on the recruitment branding site regarding our brand. Here you will find information regarding Social media branding, communication templates, email signatures, PowerPoint templates and images that you can use.

All social media campaigns must be approved by Shane Driggers, Colleen Varana or Kathi Baker prior to engaging with the Social Media team. Lindsay Parks is our North America contact for Global Social Media. Lindsay reports into Celinda Appleby.
Social Media Tools

• Oracle Social Network OSN
• Internal Tools
• External Tools
We also have several social media tools at our finger tips. Internally, we have the Oracle Social Network or OSN that you can explore. We also have links to additional internal and external tools that you can use as well as best practices guides. We have access to a great training called Social Talent, that will help you become an expert on how to use these tools in your day to day job. We also have a Social Media team supporting recruiting for Social Media Campaigns. The Recruitment Branding Specialist that supports North America is Lindsay Parks.
Gaining Taleo Access

- Recruiting Partner will verify the details of New Hire report/Contractors report to check for any new joinee within the recruiting organization and reach out to the respective Manager to confirm the details such as employee id, career level, role, start date
- Clarify with the recruiting manager on the tools required, access type and allotment
Before you start, your hiring manager will alert the operations team that you are starting and they will put in a request for you to have access to Taleo and iRecruitment. You will need recruiter access for both. The accounts take a few days to provision, so you might need to be patient for a few days until your credentials are verified. To check to see if you have access, please go to SSA and check your worklist to see if you have access to Taleo and iRecruitment.
Gaining Taleo Access

• Partners will request for the system access (as mentioned below) once they have the confirmation from the Recruiting manager on the new joinee within the first week of the individuals start date.

• Role for Taleo depending on the type of req's they will be creating -
  • Taleo Recruiter
  • Taleo Campus Recruiter
  • Taleo Executive Recruiter

• Role for iRecruitment in order to see Candidates that have moved to iRecruitment:
  • iRecruitment Recruiter
As we mentioned on the previous slide, your manager will request Taleo access for you. As a professional recruiter, you will have access to Taleo Recruiter. This will allow you to post, source, and select candidates. You will be able to move candidates through the appropriate steps and statuses in the hiring process as they happen. You will also need access to iRecruitment so that you can see your candidates once they have moved over to iRecruitment which is the system we use for approvals and offer letters.
Taleo Training
Oracle Recruiters can take advantage of recorded trainings on Oracle's O-Tube site. Following this link will take you to a page that includes more than 20 recorded trainings, covering topics including, folder usage, searching Taleo, sharing resumes, troubleshooting, requisition creation and management, and more.

You will schedule a conference with your mentor to observe all of the necessary recruiting activities that take place in Taleo. You will see how candidates are entered and kept active with the recruiter, statuses are updated, how managers enter offers, etc.

Taleo is very intuitive and user-friendly but there are many components to it. Please continue to ask your mentor, manager or other colleagues for help and guidance as you become more proficient. Everyone is here to help!
Immigration and Visa Transfers
Let's take a moment to discuss immigration and visa transfers
Immigration

Reqs in Taleo for Immigration Purposes are not to be used or altered by Internal Recruiting

Recruiters are not to ask about candidates’ visa statuses or ability to work in the US, except under certain limited circumstances (National Security Group, etc)

Recruiters should not paraphrase or take excerpts from Oracle’s immigration website or create their own guidance for hiring managers.

Recruiters should direct Hiring Manager immigration questions and issues to Denise Rahmani, Sr Director – Immigration. Denise.Rahmani@oracle.com
Recruiters should stay out of immigration process and only direct managers to the immigration team.

From the EEOC.gov website:
Employers should not ask whether or not a job applicant is a United States citizen before making an offer of employment. The Immigration Reform and Control Act of 12986 (IRCA) makes it illegal for employers to discriminate with respect to hiring, firing, or recruitment or referral for a fee, based on an individual’s citizenship or immigration status. For example, the law prohibits employers from hiring only U.S. citizens or lawful permanent residents unless required to do so by law, regulation or government contract; it also prohibits employers from preferring to hire temporary visa holders or undocumented workers over qualified U.S. citizens or other protected individuals, such as refugees or individuals granted asylum.

There are a few exceptions such as NSG and some other areas in government or banking. Our legal team should review and decide on whether it is legal to ask about citizenship in these special cases. Recruiters can introduce the hiring manager to representatives in Immigration or Legal.
Verbiage on Immigration Req
These reqs are locked but the Taleo team and are for immigration tracking purposes only. If you see this verbiage, please avoid these reqs and do not attempt to modify them.

The Immigration Team has Immigration User access to Taleo created only for them which allows them to modify the standard default job descriptions, etc.
Visa Transfer Process

The Visa transfer will need to be initiated once the offer has been officially extended and the candidate has sent their acceptance paperwork back (in certain circumstances, managers can start the visa process before this).
Once the candidate accepts the electronic offer, and sends in the necessary paperwork to HR, the hiring manager will be notified about the next steps in completing the new hire’s visa transfer. There is not much the hiring manager has to do as this process is primarily handled by our immigration team.

The candidate cannot actually start work until his/her visa has been fully transferred to Oracle. The hiring manager should take this into account when determining the new hire’s start date.
Visa Transfer Process

1. Manager follows the normal hiring process.

2. Once written acceptance of offer is received by HRSSC an email alert is sent to the US hiring manager with instructions to start visa process.

3. Please e-mail the BAL Oracle Case Coordinator, Susana Weir, at [redacted] with the hiring managers name, email and phone number and the H-1B employee's/candidate's name, telephone number and e-mail address. Susana will then send out links to the online Employer and Employee Questionnaire.
These steps are good to share with hiring managers who have not hired candidates with a visa in the past.
Visa Transfer Process

4. BAL will advise which PO to open. Review this under Announcements and News under new Purchase Orders for US Immigration Matters information regarding the PO process.

5. Immigration attorney will contact manager and candidate with an acknowledgement of materials and introduction to services.

6. BAL Global provides online questionnaires for completion by manager and new hire, and advises which Lifespan PO to raise. Contract obligations require that Oracle issue PO before law firm staff can begin case. Manager and new hire work directly with BAL Global and will be advised when case is filed.
Recruiters should not comment, advise, or direct HMs or candidates to contact Oracle’s immigration attorneys to hurry up the process. This is unprofessional and will not speed things up. All immigration-related questions should be directed to Denise Rahmani and her team.
Visa Transfer Process

More Info on the visa process can be found at:

Please be watching for any emails from the immigration team and reply with any necessary information to them as soon as possible. Any delays could delay the start date by weeks.
Additional Resources
Selecting Winners

• Recruiters are strongly encouraged to attend a training
  – Trainings can be taken in-person as a group or through OTD
  – Discuss with your manager prior to signing up for a class

• End to End Process for Hiring
• Improves Interviewing Skills
• Improves Decision Making Skills
Let’s talk about Selecting Winners. Selecting Winners is a training program that you are strongly encouraged to attend. You can take the training in person or as a group through the Organization and Talent Development Team or OTD. There is a cost so you will want to discuss it with your recruiting manager to determine the method in which you should take it. Selecting Winners covers an end to end process for hiring and is designed to improve your interviewing and decision making skills.
What We Do

WittyParrot is a Cloud-based content delivery platform that helps companies to speak with one voice. This is not a cliche. We are deeply interested in solving the problems common to both small and large companies and individuals in communicating consistently and responsively.

The problem WittyParrot is addressing is non-trivial and has a number of elements. Solving the problem creates opportunities for knowledge management, sales enablement, improving productivity of knowledge workers and increasing the value of information and brand.

Recruiters can request a Witty Parrot license through their managers.
Social Talent Overview
See attached slide deck

At Oracle, we recognize that to find top talent, we want to be on the cutting edge of technology, and that includes social media. For this reason, we offer all Recruiters training in effective social media sourcing techniques. You can become a sourcing ninja!
