ARTICLE 4 WORKING CONDITIONS, SAFETY & DISCHARGE

Section 1. The ORGANIZATION may, at any time during the life of this contract, call to the attention of the EMPLOYER any conditions under which employees are working that are by state or federal regulations considered grossly unlawful, unhealthy, unsafe, or unsanitary.

Section 2. Because EMPLOYER controls the facilities in which an assigned employee works, it is agreed that EMPLOYER is primarily responsible for compliance with the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA) and comparable state laws and regulations there under.

Section 3. It is the EMPLOYER's exclusive responsibility to insure the safety of its employees and their compliance with these safety rules and standards, and to promote employee safety and accident prevention in and around all operations and premises. The EMPLOYER shall maintain safe, sanitary and healthful conditions and shall provide first aid equipment to take care of employees in case of an accident or illness. It shall be the responsibility of each employee to maintain his place of work in a clean and orderly condition. Employees shall be required to observe safety rules, including the use of prescribed safety equipment or clothing. As a condition of continued employment, all employees shall be required to conform to all reasonable work rules and regulations that may be issued by the EMPLOYER from time to time pertaining to the operations, health and safety. All employees must adhere to and follow all EMPLOYER safety policies and procedures. Adequate personnel protective devices, safety equipment and the like shall be supplied by the EMPLOYER and employees shall be required to use them as instructed by the EMPLOYER and in accordance with all Federal, State, Local or Governing Agency rules and regulations.

Section 4. The management of the EMPLOYER and the direction of the working force, including the right to plan, direct its operations, to hire, suspend, discipline, discharge, transfer, or to relieve employees from duty because of lack of work, or for other legitimate reasons as per Article 4 Section 5, and to make shop rules for the government of the EMPLOYER is vested exclusively in the EMPLOYER, provided, however, that such action by the EMPLOYER does not conflict with the provisions of this AGREEMENT.

Section 5. Employees during their 90 day probationary period may be discharged at the sole discretion of the EMPLOYER without the right of appeal. Employees that have already met their probationary period, considered regular employees, shall be discharged for just cause, such as but not limited to: drunkenness, the use of intoxicating liquors on the job, tardiness, gross insubordination, willful disobedience to any reasonable and proper instructions not in conflict with this AGREEMENT, dishonesty, incompetence, excessive or unreasonable absenteeism, or violation of any of the provisions of this contract shall be grounds for discharge, but the enumeration of these grounds shall not preclude the EMPLOYER from discharging, suspending, demoting, or otherwise disciplining employees for other proper causes. It is specifically understood that the EMPLOYER's failure to discipline or discharge an employee for any of the above-mentioned acts or for the violation of EMPLOYER rules or for other conduct meriting discipline or discharge, shall not be considered a waiver of the EMPLOYER's rights to discipline or discharge such employee for similar future conduct or violations.

Section 6. Where required by law, employees working over five hours shall be allowed a meal period. The 30 minute meal period must be provided between the second and fifth working hour. In the event of a longer-than-usual workday (more than 8 hours), the second 30 minute meal period must be given within five hours from the end of the first meal period and for each five-hours worked thereafter. Meal periods are not considered hours of work and may always be unpaid as long as employees are completely relieved from duty and receive an uninterrupted meal period. Meal periods are considered hours of work and must be paid when the EMPLOYER requires employees to remain on duty on the premises or at a prescribed work site and requires the employee to act in the interest of the EMPLOYER.

Section 7. Where required by law, employees shall be allowed a rest period of not less than ten (10) minutes on the EMPLOYER's time in each four hours of working time. The rest break must be allowed no later than the end of the third working hour. Employees may not waive their right to a rest period. The term "rest period" means to stop work duties, exertions, or activities for personal rest and relaxation. Rest periods are considered hours worked. Nothing in this regulation prohibits an EMPLOYER from requiring employees to remain on the premises during their rest periods. The term "on the EMPLOYER's time" is considered to mean that the EMPLOYER is responsible for paying the employee for the time spent on a rest period.

Section 8. There shall be no discrimination against any person based on association membership or activity, race, sex, sexual orientation, gender identification, creed, religion, color, national origin, age, marital or parental status, political belief, or physical or mental handicap.
