Dear Employer:

Enclosed you will find citations for violations of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (the Act) which may have accompanying proposed penalties. Also enclosed is a booklet entitled, "Employer Rights and Responsibilities Following an OSHA Inspection", (OSHA 3000-04R) revised 2018, which explains your rights and responsibilities under the Act. If you have any questions about the enclosed citations and penalties, I would welcome further discussions in person or by telephone. Please contact me at (954) 424-0242.

You will note on page 6 of the booklet that, for violations which you do not contest, you must (1) notify this office promptly by letter that you have taken appropriate corrective action within the time set forth on the citation; and (2) pay any penalties assessed. Please inform me of the abatement steps you have taken and of their dates together with adequate supporting documentation; e.g., drawings or photographs of corrected conditions, purchase/work orders related to abatement actions, air sampling results. This information will allow us to close the case.

As indicated on page 3 of the booklet, you may request an informal conference with me during the 15-working-day notice of contest period. During such an informal conference you may present any evidence or views which you believe would support an adjustment to the citation or the penalty.

If you are considering a request for an informal conference to discuss any issues related to this Citation and Notification of Penalty, you must take care to schedule it early enough to allow time to contest after the informal conference, should you decide to do so. Please keep in mind that a written letter of intent to contest must be submitted to the Area Director within 15 working days of your receipt of the citation. The running of this contest period is not interrupted by an informal conference.

If you decide to request an informal conference, please complete the attached notice at the bottom of this letter and post it next to the Citations as soon as the time, date and the place of the informal conference have been determined. Be sure to bring to the conference with you any and all supporting documentation of existing conditions as well as of any abatement steps taken thus far. If conditions warrant, we can enter into an informal settlement agreement which amicably resolves this matter without litigation or contest.

You should be aware that OSHA publishes information on its inspection and citation activity on the Internet under the provisions of Electronic Freedom of Information Act. The information related to these alleged violations will be posted when our system indicates that you have received this citation. You are encouraged to review the information concerning your establishment at www.osha.gov. If you have any dispute with the accuracy of the information displayed, please contact this office.

Sincerely,

Condell Eastmond
Area Director

Citation 1 Item 1 Type of Violation: Serious

OSH ACT of 1970 Section (5)(a)(1): The employer did not furnish employment and a place of employment which were free from recognized hazards that were causing or likely to cause death or serious physical harm to employees in that employees were exposed to excessive heat, elevated temperature working conditions, direct sun radiation and thermal stress:

On or about 01/01/2023, at 12210 Loxahatchee Road, Parkland, FL, employees were exposed to high ambient heat from working in direct sunlight while performing harvesting job duties such as pulling weeds and staking bell peppers. The calculated Wet Bulb Globe Temperature (WBGT) between 9:53 am and 1:53 pm ranged from 78- 88 degrees Fahrenheit with a heat index up to 89 degrees Fahrenheit. Such exposures may lead to the development of serious heat-related illnesses such as, but not limited to, heat cramps, heat exhaustion, heat stroke, and up to and including death. An employee had been working approximately 5 hours pulling weed and staking bell peppers when the employee was observed exhibiting symptoms of heat exhaustion such as fatigue, weakness, and disorientation.

Among other methods, a feasible and acceptable method of abatement includes, but is not limited to, establishing, implementing and enforce a heat stress management program which incorporates guidelines from OSHA and the National Institute of Occupational Safety & Health (NIOSH) document, "Protecting Workers from Heat Illness", and OSHA's Safety and Health Topics Page on Occupational Heat Exposure. Among other measures, such a program may include:

1. Administrative/Work Practice Controls:
 - a. Designate a program administrator responsible for implementing the heat stress program at a specific indicator, wet bulb globe temperature or dry-bulb temperature.
 - b. Provide a training program, for all employees, which includes the health effects associated with heat stress, symptoms of heat-induced illness, methods of preventing such illnesses, and actions that should be taken in the event a heat-induced illness is experienced.
 - c. Acclimatize employees beginning work in hot environment or those returning from an absence period of three or more days.
 - d. Encourage employees to drink a cup of cool water every 15 to 20 minutes rather than relying on thirst. For longer jobs that last more than two hours, also provide electrolyte-containing beverages such as sports drinks.
 - e. Establish specific-break schedules during high temperature conditions that are more frequent than regular break schedules. Ensure that these break schedules are followed.
 - f. Provide a shaded area for breaks.
 - g. Physiologically monitor workers to better identify when workers need to be removed from the work area.

See pages 1 through 4 of this Citation and Notification of Penalty for information on employer and employee rights and responsibilities.

- h. Conduct in-person evaluations of employees complaining of heat-related illness symptoms and ensure supervisors are able to use physical and physiological indicators to determine when it is appropriate to remove an employee from work, arrange for immediate medical attention, or provide other assistance as necessary.
 - i. Ensure that there is an effective means of communication, such as satellite phones, to ensure that emergency medical services can be called when working in remote/rural areas.
 - j. In remote areas, establish procedures such as designating an employee to go to the nearest road or highway to direct emergency responders to the location.
2. Provide effective training beyond video modules to workers and their supervisors, which include:
- a. Recognition of early danger signs and symptoms of heat-related illness
 - b. Hazards of heat and with the external factors such as clothing, solar radiance, water intake and metabolic output included.
 - c. How to implement the work/rest cycles in accordance with WBGT levels.
 - d. The employer specific procedures to address heat-related illnesses.
 - e. The effects of certain medications, drugs, coffee, alcohol and energy drinks in hot work environments.

If a personal check is issued, it will be converted into an electronic fund transfer (EFT). Pursuant to the Debt Collection Act of 1982 (Public Law 97-365) and regulations of the U.S. Department of Labor (29 CFR Part 20), the Occupational Safety and Health Administration is required to assess interest, delinquent charges, and administrative costs for the collection of delinquent penalty debts for violations of the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

Interest: Interest charges will be assessed at an annual rate determined by the Secretary of the Treasury on all penalty debt amounts not paid within one month (30 calendar days) of the date on which the debt amount becomes due and payable (penalty due date). The current interest rate is one percent (1%). Interest will accrue from the date on which the penalty amounts (as proposed or adjusted) become a final order of the Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission (that is, 15 working days from your receipt of the Citation and Notification of Penalty), unless you file a notice of contest. Interest charges will be waived if the full amount owed is paid within 30 calendar days of the final order.

Delinquent Charges: A debt is considered delinquent if it has not been paid within one month (30 calendar days) of the penalty due date or if a satisfactory payment arrangement has not been made. If the debt remains delinquent for more than 90 calendar days, a delinquent charge of six percent (6%) per annum will be assessed accruing from the date that the debt became delinquent.

Administrative Costs: Agencies of the Department of Labor are required to assess additional charges for the recovery of delinquent debts. These additional charges are administrative costs incurred by the Agency in its attempt to collect an unpaid debt. Administrative costs will be assessed for demand letters sent in an attempt to collect the unpaid debt.
