

Claims for Cancer under the EEOICPA

The Office of Workers' Compensation Programs (OWCP), Division of Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation (DEEOIC) and the National Institute for Occupational Safety & Health (NIOSH), invite you to a webinar to learn about cancer claims and the role of NIOSH under the Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation Program Act (EEOICPA). The webinar will culminate with a dedicated Q&A session, where audience questions will be addressed. Feel free to submit questions prior to the webinar at the email below or participate in the live Q&A during the webinar.

Moderators will discuss:

- Required medical evidence for cancer claims
- Eligibility for cancer under Parts B and E of the EEOICPA
- NIOSH referral process
- Dose reconstructions & probability of causation
- Special Exposure Cohort (SEC) petitions

Discussion led by:

Grady Calhoun, Director, NIOSH Division of Compensation Analysis & Support

Tony Schwiefert, Staff Education and Mentoring (SEAM) Unit Manager, DEEOIC

About EEOICPA:

The Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation Program Act provides lump-sum compensation and medical benefits to current and former nuclear weapons workers whose illness is a result of working in the nuclear weapons industry. Survivors of qualified workers may also be entitled to benefits. Covered illnesses include radiation-induced cancer, chronic beryllium disease, beryllium sensitivity, chronic silicosis, or any illness due to exposure to toxic substances.
