DECISION and ORDER

Appeal of the Decision and Order of Scott S. Morris, Administrative Law Judge, United States Department of Labor.

Karin L. Weingart (Spilman Thomas & Battle, PLLC), Charleston, West Virginia, for employer.

Jeffrey S. Goldberg (M. Patricia Smith, Solicitor of Labor; Rae Ellen James, Associate Solicitor; Michael J. Rutledge, Counsel for Administrative Litigation and Legal Advice), Washington, D.C., for the

Director, Office of Workers' Compensation Programs, United States Department of Labor.

Before: HALL, Chief Administrative Appeals Judge, GILLIGAN and ROLFE, Administrative Appeals Judges.

PER CURIAM:

Employer appeals the Decision and Order (2015-BLA-5118) of Administrative Law Judge Scott R. Morris awarding benefits on a claim filed pursuant to the provisions of the Black Lung Benefits Act, as amended, 30 U.S.C. §§901-944 (2012) (the Act). This case involves a survivor's claim filed on September 22, 2014.

The administrative law judge noted that Section 422(l) of the Act, 30 U.S.C. §932(l), provides that a survivor of a miner who was determined to be eligible to receive benefits at the time of his or her death is automatically entitled to receive survivor's benefits without having to establish that the miner's death was due to pneumoconiosis. 30 U.S.C. §932(l). The administrative law judge determined that claimant¹ satisfied the eligibility criteria for automatic entitlement to benefits pursuant to Section 932(l). Accordingly, the administrative law judge awarded survivor's benefits.

On appeal, employer contends that the administrative law judge erred in determining that claimant is derivatively entitled to survivor's benefits pursuant to Section 932(l). The Director, Office of Workers' Compensation Programs (the Director), responds in support of the administrative law judge's award of benefits. Claimant has not filed a response brief.

The Board's scope of review is defined by statute. The administrative law judge's Decision and Order must be affirmed if it is rational, supported by substantial evidence, and in accordance with applicable law. 33 U.S.C. §921(b)(3), as incorporated by 30 U.S.C. §932(a); O'Keeffe v. Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc., 380 U.S. 359 (1965).

The administrative law judge found that claimant satisfied her burden to establish each fact necessary to demonstrate her entitlement under Section 932(l) of the Act: that she filed her claim after January 1, 2005; that she is an eligible survivor of the miner; that her claim was pending on or after March 23, 2010; and that the miner had been determined to be eligible to receive benefits at the time of his death.² 30 U.S.C. §932(l); Decision and Order at 3.

Employer contends that claimant does not satisfy the eligibility criteria for automatic entitlement under Section 932(l) because the underlying miner's claim was only awarded by the district director, and is therefore not "effective" in light of employer's request for a hearing. We disagree. Section 932(l) requires only that a miner be "determined to be eligible to receive benefits . . . at the time of his . . . death." 30 U.S.C. §932(l) (emphasis added). As the Director accurately notes, the Board's decision in Rothwell v. Heritage Coal Co., 25 BLR 1-141 (2014), made it clear that, for the purposes of determining eligibility for derivative benefits under Section 932(l), the award in the miner's claim need not be final or effective:

In short, upon an award of benefits at any stage of a black lung proceeding, a miner is legally entitled to receive benefits from either the responsible operator or the Trust Fund, regardless of an appeal, or a request for modification, of the award. Therefore, we agree with the Director that miners who are entitled to receive benefits payments under the regulations, even before their awards are final, are necessarily "determined to be eligible to receive benefits" 30 U.S.C. §932(l).

Rothwell, 25 BLR at 1-146.

In Rothwell, the Board recognized that even where a responsible operator timely requests a hearing following a district director's proposed order awarding benefits in a miner's claim, the miner is still entitled to receive benefits paid by the employer, or, in the event of the employer's default, by the Black Lung Disability Trust Fund. Rothwell, 25 BLR at 1-146 n.6, citing 20 C.F.R. §§725.420(a), 725.522(a). Thus, contrary to employer's contention, the miner in this case was "determined to be eligible to receive benefits" for the purpose of determining eligibility for derivative benefits under Section 932(l). Because employer raises no other contentions of error, we affirm the administrative law judge's determination that claimant is derivatively entitled to survivor's benefits pursuant to Section 932(l). 30 U.S.C. §932(l).

² The miner filed a claim for benefits on January 25, 2013. Employer's Brief at 2; Director's Brief at 1-2. In a Proposed Decision and Order dated January 23, 2014, the district director awarded benefits. Employer's Brief at 2. On March 7, 2014, the district director denied employer's "request for revision." Id. At employer's request, the case was forwarded to the Office of Administrative Law Judges for a formal hearing. Id. The administrative law judge assigned to the miner's case has not yet issued a decision.

Accordingly, the administrative law judge's Decision and Order awarding benefits is affirmed.

SO ORDERED.
