Before: HALL, Chief Administrative Appeals Judge, SMITH and DOLDER, Administrative Appeals Judges.

PER CURIAM:

Claimant appeals the Decision and Order and Decision on Motion for Reconsideration and employer appeals the Supplemental Decision and Order Awarding Attorney Fees (94-LHC-1569) of Administrative Law Judge Richard D. Mills rendered on a claim filed pursuant to the provisions of the Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, as amended, 33 U.S.C. §901 et seq. (the Act). We must affirm the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the administrative law judge if they are rational, supported by substantial evidence, and in accordance with law. O'Keeffe v. Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc., 380 U.S. 359 (1965); 33 U.S.C. §921(b)(3). The amount of an attorney's fee award is discretionary and may be set aside only if the challenging party shows it to be arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, or not in accordance with law. See, e.g., Muscella v. Sun Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co., 12 BRBS 272 (1980).

On March 12, 1992, claimant filed a notice of injury and a claim for hearing loss benefits against employer for whom claimant last worked on February 25, 1977. In his Decision and Order, the administrative law judge awarded claimant benefits for a 12.34 percent binaural impairment pursuant to 33 U.S.C. §908(c)(13)(B). The administrative law judge also held employer liable for interest on any sums determined to be due and owing as of March 12, 1992, the date of the notice of injury.¹

Claimant's counsel subsequently submitted a fee petition to the administrative law judge requesting an attorney's fee of $2,197.50, representing 13 hours of services rendered by lead counsel at $150 per hour and 2.25 hours of services rendered by associate counsel at $110 per hour, for work performed before the administrative law judge in connection with this hearing loss claim. Employer filed objections to the fee requested. In a Supplemental Decision and Order, the administrative law judge, after considering the objections raised by employer, reduced the number of hours sought by counsel to 14.25, reduced the hourly rate sought to $125 for claimant's lead counsel, approved the hourly rate of $110 for claimant's associate counsel, and thereafter awarded claimant's counsel an attorney's fee of $1,747.50.

On appeal, claimant contends that interest should accrue as of February 25, 1977, the date of claimant's last covered exposure to injurious noise, and not from when employer obtained knowledge of claimant's injury. The Director, Office of Workers' Compensation Programs (the Director), responds in agreement with claimant's contention, asserting that the payment of interest from the last day of injurious noise exposure is necessary to fully compensate claimant. Employer responds, urging affirmance of the administrative law judge's Decision and Order. In its appeal, employer challenges the administrative law judge's fee award, incorporating by reference the objections it made below into its appellate brief. Claimant responds, urging affirmance of the fee award.²

²Inasmuch as employer's appeal was filed on October 30, 1995, the one year period provided by

We first address claimant's and the Director's contention that claimant's entitlement to interest accrues from his date of last exposure to injurious noise in 1977. In Renfroe v. Ingalls Shipbuilding, Inc., ___ BRBS ___, BRB Nos. 91-170/A (June 24, 1996)(en banc), the Board held that in a hearing loss case interest accrues on compensation from the date benefits become due under Section 14(b), 33 U.S.C. §914(b), and accrues on all benefits due and unpaid from that date until they are paid. The Board held that an employer cannot wrongfully withhold or delay the payment of benefits until they are "due," and benefits do not become "due" under Section 14(b) until employer has knowledge of the injury or notice of the injury pursuant to Section 12, of the Act, 33 U.S.C. §912. See Renfroe, slip op at 7, 9. Therefore, for the reasons set forth in Renfroe, we reject claimant's and the Director's contention that interest should accrue as of the date of claimant's last exposure to injurious noise and affirm the administrative law judge's determination that employer is liable for interest on benefits accruing as of March 12, 1992, the date of the notice of injury.

We next address employer's appeal of the administrative law judge's attorney's fee award. Employer avers that claimant obtained only a nominal gain in benefits, and the attorney's fee awarded therefore should be limited, in accordance with Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424 (1983), and George Hyman Construction Co. v. Brooks, 963 F.2d 1532, 25 BRBS 161 (CRT) (D.C. Cir. 1992). In considering counsel's fee petition, the administrative law judge specifically addressed the regulatory criteria governing approval of an attorney's fee under the Act pursuant to 20 C.F.R. §702.132, which provides that the award of any attorney's fee approved shall be reasonably commensurate with the necessary work done, the complexity of the legal issues involved and the amount of benefits awarded. See generally Parrott v. Seattle Joint Port Labor Relations Committee of the Pacific Maritime Ass'n, 22 BRBS 434 (1989). Moreover, the administrative law judge specifically considered employer's objection that the amount sought in counsel's fee petition was excessive in relation to the result achieved by claimant. See Supplemental Decision and Order at 1-2. Inasmuch as the administrative law judge considered this specific objection when addressing counsel's fee petition and rationally found the fee was reasonable given the results achieved, we reject employer's contention that the fee must be further reduced on this basis.

Employer next objects to the number of hours and hourly rates awarded by the administrative law judge; we reject these contentions, as employer has not shown that the administrative law judge abused his discretion in this regard.³ See Ross v. Ingalls Shipbuilding, Inc.,

Public Law 104-134 commences on that date.

³Employer additionally contends that counsel's fee should be reduced since the case was "a routine and uncontested hearing loss claim." We note that the administrative law judge considered the routine nature of the issues involved in reducing lead counsel's requested hourly rate. Moreover, our review of the record indicates that, contrary to employer's assertion that the claim was uncontested, employer controverted the issue of the nature and extent of claimant's disability before the administrative law judge, an issue on which claimant prevailed. We therefore reject employer's contention that the awarded fee must be further reduced on this basis. See 20 C.F.R. §702.132; Thompson v. Lockheed Shipbuilding & Construction Co., 21 BRBS 94 (1988).

29 BRBS 42 (1995); Maddon v. Western Asbestos Co., 23 BRBS 55 (1989); Cabral v. General Dynamics Corp., 13 BRBS 97 (1981). Employer's specific objection to counsel's method of billing in minimum increments of one-quarter hour also is rejected, as the administrative law judge's award conforms to the criteria set forth in the decisions of the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit in Ingalls Shipbuilding, Inc. v. Director, OWCP [Fairley], No. 89-4459 (5th Cir. July 25, 1990) (unpublished) and Ingalls Shipbuilding, Inc. v. Director, OWCP [Biggs], 46 F.3d 66 (5th Cir. 1995) (table). Accordingly, the number of hours and hourly rates awarded by the administrative law judge are affirmed.

Accordingly, the administrative law judge's Decision and Order Awarding Benefits, Decision on Motion for Reconsideration and Supplemental Decision and Order Awarding Attorney Fees are affirmed.

SO ORDERED.
