General Comment

If this administration is for this, then it makes me worry about what is the real agenda. I am not for the government involvement of my retirement. The government has no need to be involved with mine, or anyone else's retirement plans. That's what the social Security was supposed to be, and look what our government has done with that. I know what's best for me and my retirement not my corrupt government. No good can come from this. I am not for this.
