JURISDICTION

On May 12, 2026 appellant, through counsel, filed a timely appeal from an April 30, 2026 merit decision of the Office of Workers' Compensation Programs (OWCP). Pursuant to the Federal Employees' Compensation Act[2] (FECA) and 20 C.F.R. §§ 501.2(c) and 501.3, the Board has jurisdiction over the merits of this case.[3]

[1] In all cases in which a representative has been authorized in a matter before the Board, no claim for a fee for legal or other service performed on appeal before the Board is valid unless approved by the Board. 20 C.F.R. § 501.9(e). No contract for a stipulated fee or on a contingent fee basis will be approved by the Board. Id. An attorney or representative's collection of a fee without the Board's approval may constitute a misdemeanor, subject to fine or imprisonment for up to one year or both. Id.; see also 18 U.S.C. § 292. Demands for payment of fees to a representative, prior to approval by the Board, may be reported to appropriate authorities for investigation.

[2] 5 U.S.C. § 8101 et seq.

[3] The Board notes that, following the April 30, 2026 decision, appellant submitted additional evidence to OWCP. However, the Board's Rules of Procedure provides: "The Board's review of a case is limited to the evidence in the case record that was before OWCP at the time of its final decision. Evidence not before OWCP will not be considered by the Board for the first time on appeal." 20 C.F.R. § 501.2(c)(1). Thus, the Board is precluded from reviewing this additional evidence for the first time on appeal. Id.

ISSUES

The issues are: (1) whether appellant received an overpayment of compensation in the amount of $45,602.11 for the period February 1, 2023 through April 19, 2025, for which he was without fault, because he concurrently received FECA wage-loss compensation and Social Security Administration (SSA) age-related retirement benefits, without an appropriate offset; (2) whether OWCP properly denied waiver of recovery of the overpayment; and (3) whether OWCP properly required recovery of the overpayment by deducting $739.69 from appellant's continuing compensation payments, every 28 days.

FACTUAL HISTORY

On January 7, 2010 appellant, then a 53-year-old tractor trailer driver, filed a traumatic injury claim (Form CA-1) alleging that on January 6, 2010 he injured his right shoulder blade when he was struck from behind by a postal container while in the performance of duty. OWCP accepted the claim for cervical and thoracic strain/sprain and radiculopathy and impingement/ instability of the right shoulder. It paid appellant wage-loss compensation on the supplemental rolls commencing April 3, 2010, and on the periodic rolls commencing June 6, 2010.

On March 24, 2025 OWCP provided SSA with a FERS/SSA dual benefits form.

On an April 3, 2025 completed dual benefits form, SSA reported appellant's SSA age-related retirement benefit rates with and without federal service from February 2023 through December 2024. Beginning February 2023, the SSA rate with federal service was $2,746.80 and without federal service was $1,077.80; beginning December 2023, the SSA rate with federal service was $2,834.60 and without federal service was $1,112.20; beginning December 2024, the SSA rate with federal service was $2,905.40 and without federal service was $1,140.00.

On May 1, 2025 OWCP adjusted appellant's wage-loss compensation payments to reflect an offset of $1,629.60 per 28-day pay period for his SSA age-related retirement benefits attributable to his federal service. It accordingly adjusted appellant's net wage-loss compensation payment amount to $2,875.40 per 28-day pay period.

On May 13, 2025, OWCP prepared a FERS offset overpayment calculation worksheet, wherein it detailed its calculation of appellant's SSA offset overpayment for the period February 1, 2023 through April 19, 2025. The calculation resulted in a total overpayment amount of $45,602.11.

In a preliminary overpayment determination dated June 26, 2025, OWCP notified appellant that he had received an overpayment of compensation in the amount of $45,602.11 for the period February 1, 2023 through April 19, 2025, because he concurrently received SSA age-related retirement benefits and FECA wage-loss compensation without an appropriate offset. It further advised him of its preliminary overpayment determination that he was without fault in the creation of the overpayment. OWCP requested that appellant complete an overpayment action request form and an overpayment recovery questionnaire (Form OWCP-20) and submit supporting financial documentation including tax returns, bank account statements, bills, cancelled checks, pay slips, and other records which supported income and expenses listed.

Additionally, it notified appellant that he could request a final decision based on the written evidence or a prerecoupment hearing within 30 days.

On July 17, 2025 appellant, through counsel, requested a prerecoupment hearing before a representative of OWCP's Branch of Hearings and Review. On a Form OWCP-20 dated September 23, 2025, appellant reported total monthly income of $5,595.40, total monthly expenses of $5,389.23, and assets totaling $2,408.64. He provided limited supporting financial documentation.

A prerecoupment hearing was held on February 12, 2026. The hearing representative held the record open for 30 days for the submission of additional evidence. No additional evidence was received.

By decision dated April 30, 2026, OWCP's hearing representative finalized the preliminary overpayment determination that appellant had received an overpayment of compensation in the amount of $45,602.11 for the period February 1, 2023[4] through April 19, 2025. The hearing representative further found that he was without fault in the creation of the overpayment, but denied waiver of recovery. The hearing representative required recovery of the overpayment by deducting $739.69 from appellant's continuing compensation payments, every 28 days.

LEGAL PRECEDENT -- ISSUE 1

Section 8102(a) of FECA provides that the United States shall pay compensation for the disability or death of an employee resulting from personal injury sustained while in the performance of duty.[5] However, section 8116 also limits the right of an employee to receive compensation. While an employee is receiving compensation, he or she may not receive salary, pay, or remuneration of any type from the United States.[6] When an overpayment has been made to an individual because of an error of fact or law, adjustment shall be made under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor by decreasing later payments to which the individual is entitled.[7]

Section 10.421(d) of OWCP's implementing regulations requires that it reduce the amount of compensation by the amount of any SSA benefits that are attributable to the employee's federal service.[8] FECA Bulletin No. 97-09 states that FECA benefits have to be adjusted for the FERS portion of SSA benefits because the portion of the SSA benefit earned as a federal employee is part of the FERS retirement package, and the receipt of FECA benefits and federal retirement concurrently is a prohibited dual benefit.[9]

ANALYSIS -- ISSUE 1

The Board finds that appellant received an overpayment of compensation in the amount of $45,602.11 for the period February 1, 2023 through April 19, 2025, for which he was without fault, because he concurrently received FECA wage-loss compensation and SSA age-related retirement benefits, without an appropriate offset.

SSA provided a completed dual benefits form showing that appellant was in receipt of SSA age-related retirement benefits attributable to his federal service since February 1, 2023. The case record, however, establishes that appellant also received FECA wage-loss compensation for that same period. No appropriate offset was made. As noted, a claimant cannot receive both compensation for wage loss under FECA and SSA age-related retirement benefits attributable to federal service for the same period.[10] Accordingly, the Board finds that fact of overpayment has been established.

With regard to the amount of the overpayment, the SSA provided appellant's SSA rates with federal service and without federal service for the period February 1, 2023 through April 19, 2025. OWCP provided its calculation of the amount that it should have offset during the relevant period based on the information provided by SSA.

The Board has reviewed OWCP's calculation of SSA age-related retirement benefits received by appellant for the period February 1, 2023 through April 19, 2025 and finds that an overpayment of compensation in the amount of $45,602.11 was created.[11]

LEGAL PRECEDENT -- ISSUE 2

Section 8129 of FECA provides that an individual who is without fault in creating or accepting an overpayment is still subject to recovery of the overpayment unless adjustment or recovery would defeat the purpose of FECA or would be against equity and good conscience.[12] Thus, a finding that appellant was without fault does not automatically result in waiver of the overpayment. OWCP must then exercise its discretion to determine whether recovery of the overpayment would defeat the purpose of FECA or would be against equity and good conscience.[13]

Recovery of an overpayment will defeat the purpose of FECA when such recovery would cause hardship to a currently or formerly entitled beneficiary because the beneficiary from whom OWCP seeks recovery needs substantially all of his or her current income, including compensation benefits, to meet current ordinary and necessary living expenses, and the beneficiary's assets do not exceed a specified amount as determined by OWCP.[14] Additionally, recovery of an overpayment is considered to be against equity and good conscience when an individual who received an overpayment would experience severe financial hardship in attempting to repay the debt or when an individual, in reliance on such payment or on notice that such payments would be made, gives up a valuable right or changes his or her position for the worse.[15]

OWCP's regulations provide that the individual who received the overpayment is responsible for providing information about income, expenses, and assets as specified by OWCP. This information is needed to determine whether or not recovery of an overpayment would defeat the purpose of FECA or be against equity and good conscience. The information is also used to determine the repayment schedule, if necessary.[16] Failure to submit the requested information within 30 days of the request shall result in a denial of waiver of recovery, and no further request for waiver shall be considered until the requested information is furnished.[17]

ANALYSIS -- ISSUE 2

The Board finds that OWCP properly denied waiver of recovery of the overpayment.

As OWCP found appellant without fault in the creation of the overpayment, waiver must be considered, and recovery is still required unless adjustment or recovery of the overpayment would defeat the purpose of FECA or be against equity and good conscience.[18]

On a completed Form OWCP-20 dated August 4, 2024, appellant reported total monthly income of $5,595.40 and total monthly expenses of $5,389.23. Appellant submitted only limited supporting financial documentation. As his total monthly income exceeded his total monthly expenses by more than $50.00, he has not shown that he needs substantially all of his current income to meet current ordinary and necessary living expenses.[19]

[14] 20 C.F.R. § 10.436(a)-(b). For an individual with no eligible dependents the asset base is $6,200.00. The base increases to $10,300.00 for an individual with a spouse or one dependent, plus $1,200.00 for each additional dependent. The Board further finds that appellant has not established that recovery of the overpayment would be against equity and good conscience because it has not been shown that he would experience severe financial hardship in attempting to repay the debt, or that a valuable right had been relinquished, or that a position had been changed for the worse in reliance on the payment, which created the overpayment.[20]

Because appellant has not established that recovery of the overpayment would defeat the purpose of FECA or be against equity and good conscience, the Board finds that OWCP properly denied waiver of recovery of the overpayment.

LEGAL PRECEDENT -- ISSUE 3

The Board's jurisdiction over recovery of an overpayment is limited to reviewing those cases where OWCP seeks recovery from continuing compensation under FECA.[21]

Section 10.441 of OWCP's regulations provides in pertinent part that, when an overpayment has been made to an individual who is entitled to further payments, the individual shall refund to OWCP the amount of the overpayment as soon as the error is discovered or his or her attention is called to the same. If no refund is made, OWCP shall decrease later payments of compensation, taking into account the probable extent of future payments, the rate of compensation, the financial circumstances of the individual, and any other relevant factors, so as to minimize any hardship.[22]

ANALYSIS -- ISSUE 3

The Board finds that OWCP properly required recovery of the overpayment by deducting $739.69 from appellant's continuing compensation payments, every 28 days.

In determining whether appellant could repay the overpayment by deducting $739.69 from continuing compensation payments, OWCP took into account his financial information, as well as factors set forth in 20 C.F.R. § 10.441, and found that this method of recovery would minimize any resulting hardship, not necessarily eliminate it, while at the same time liquidating the debt in a reasonably prompt fashion.[23] Thus, the Board finds that it properly required recovery of the overpayment by deducting $739.69 from appellant's continuing compensation payments, every 28 days.

CONCLUSION

The Board finds that appellant received an overpayment of compensation in the amount of $45,602.11 for the period February 1, 2023 through April 19, 2025, for which he was without fault, because he concurrently received FECA wage-loss compensation and SSA age-related retirement benefits, without an appropriate offset. The Board further finds that OWCP properly denied waiver of recovery of the overpayment and properly required recovery of the overpayment by deducting $739.69 from his continuing compensation payments, every 28 days.
