Screening Questions BY09

Provide a brief summary and justification for this investment, including a brief description of how this closes in part or in whole an identified agency performance gap:

The e-Judication project is a product of collaborative effort of the Department’s five partnering agencies: Office of the Solicitor (SOL) and the adjudicatory agencies: Office of Administrative Law Judges (OALJ), the Administrative Review Board (ARB), the Benefits Review Board (BRB), and the Employees’ Compensation Appeals Board (ECAB). The core goal of this effort is consistent with meeting and adhering to the Presidential Management Agenda’s (PMA) goals of making government “citizen centered, results oriented and market based.” Furthermore, based on the existing e-Judication Enterprise Architecture (EA), the initiative conforms to the Litigation and Judicial lines of business. To meet those goals, e-Judication will streamline and integrate the existing business processes of the five partnering agencies (totaling over 1000 internal users) into a fully web-enabled system. The goals of this effort are to simplify and enhance the delivery of services to the general public inclusive of roughly 15,000+ interested parties to pending matters, reduce costs by consolidating and eliminating/upgrading redundant systems, and encourage transparency by streamlining all aspects of communication (Government to Citizen, Citizen to Government and Government to Business). By improving information-technology management, leveraging existing GOTS software components, simplifying business process and unifying information flows across lines of business, e-Judication will provide better quality service to the citizen, reduce redundant costs, allow for reader access to government services and make the partnering agencies more transparent and accountable.

The e-Judication project has requested to obtain the Office of Administrative Law Judges' (OALJ) Case Tracking System (OALJ CTS) which is a GOTS (Government off-the-shelf) system. E-Judication will specifically be using the Document Management Module developed to route legal documents for review, approval and issuance and is used by OALJ as part of its Case Tracking System. This Document Review and Approval service component will provide critical functionality when integrated into the e-Judication solution.
