Section 1.

If there are no Level II bidders, the most senior Level I candidate will be awarded and qualification progression timeline will follow as stipulated in Exhibit D.
- If no bidders have any pre-qualifications then the job will be filled by seniority only and qualification progression timeline will follow as stipulated in Exhibit D.

For those classifications with qualifications testing requirements such as craft positions, field operator, plant operator, etc. it is understood that all applicable qualification requirements as outlined in the applicable training and testing guidelines must be met. The table in Exhibit D illustrates the timeframe allotment required for each position upon being awarded the “bid”.

Any employee canvassing to a vacant position must be fully qualified to the position for which the employee is canvassing.

Section 3.

Any employee may withdraw his bid on a particular vacancy prior to the job being awarded.

Section 4.

Employees who are absent due to illness or vacation and who desire to bid on vacancies that may occur during their absence must sign an absentee bidding form in order to be considered for such vacancies.

Section 5.

In the event that an employee becomes incapable of performing the duties of his regular classification through illness or accident, such employee may be transferred to a classification which he is capable of performing. This provision shall not require the Company to create a new position or classification, nor to make available a position or classification not then vacant or available. This provision shall not allow such employee to “bump” another employee from any position or classification. This provision shall not alter the procedure for filling a job vacancy. When an employee is transferred to a different position or classification as a result of this Section, his pay shall be adjusted accordingly.

Section 6.

If no fully qualified employee bids on a posted vacancy, the vacancy may be filled from any source.

Section 7.

Any employee successfully completing the qualification requirements defined under the Hourly Classification Guidelines and is placed in that classification, must serve in that classification for a period of one (1) year from the date of qualifying for the craft classification before being eligible for consideration in another classification. Furthermore, any employee awarded a position, for which they are already fully qualified, will remain in that position for a period of one year before bidding into any other position.

ARTICLE XIII

Because of unavoidable shifts and fluctuations in operations, it may be necessary to transfer employees from one area to another. In such cases, the selection of the employees to be transferred, together with their transferring destination, will be at the discretion of the appropriate supervisor. Individual preference of employees will be considered, due consideration being given to the group or groups of employees involved. No employee shall be transferred from the bargaining unit without his consent.

Also, any employee being transferred will receive up to twenty-four (24) hours of paid leave for relocation activities at the employee's hourly rate of pay for the new position. Moves resulting from job bids (including canvassing) are considered to be at the request of the employee and the Company is not required to assist with moving expenses.

When transfers into the unit are made the Company will advise and counsel with the Chairman of the Worker's Committee or some other members of that Committee designated by the Chairman.

An employee transferred from one area to another in this bargaining unit shall be given at least forty-eight (48) hours' notice prior to reporting to his new assignment.

- b. Whether during or at the end of the leave of absence, the employee must apply for reinstatement within five (5) days after termination of his employment with the Union. If he fails to do so, he forfeits all rights under this Section 2.

ARTICLE XXII
GRIEVANCE AND ARBITRATION PROCEDURE

Section 1.

Grievances within the meaning of this Article shall consist only of disputes about the interpretation or application of particular clauses of this contract. Grievances may be presented by an employee through the Worker's Committee in the manner herein prescribed. Except where otherwise provided herein, or as otherwise required by law, this Article shall be the exclusive means of resolving disputes under this Agreement between the Company, the Union, and employees represented by the bargaining unit.

Section 2.

The grievance procedure shall consist of the following steps:

Step 1.

The employee who believes that any term or provision of this contract has been violated, misapplied or misinterpreted with respect to such employee shall first seek direct adjustment with his Immediate Supervisor in an effort to resolve the misunderstanding. At such discussions, the employee may have a Worker's Committeeman present, provided this does not interfere with the performance of work. If more than one employee is affected by the occurrence, the Union shall bring the occurrence to the attention of the Immediate Supervisor on behalf of all affected employees.

Step 2.

If the employee and the immediate supervisor are unable to resolve the question in a manner mutually satisfactory to them, and according to the terms of this contract, then the Chairperson of Worker's Committee shall request an informal meeting and discussion between himself, the employee and the Asset Manager.

Step 3.

If the matter has not been resolved at this point, the Union shall reduce all grievances to writing and present them on a form to be approved by the Company and the Worker's Committee. When the grievance is reduced to writing, it shall be presented to the Asset Manager. Unless a grievance is submitted in writing within ten (10) calendar days from the date of the occurrence of the action or within ten (10) calendar days after such occurrence became known to the employee, and provided that the lack of earlier knowledge was due to no fault of the employee, the subject of such grievance shall be deemed waived and may not thereafter be presented to the Company.

Step 4.

Within fifteen (15) days after receipt of any written grievance, the Asset Manager shall deliver or mail to the Union a written statement either disposing of the grievance in the manner requested by the Union or rejecting the grievance with such explanation as he may deem appropriate.

Step 5.

If the parties remain in disagreement after the exhaustion of the preceding steps, the Union may present the same written grievance to the Asset Manager, by mailing a copy thereof to him. Within fifteen (15) days following receipt of the written grievance by the Asset Manager, the Union may request a meeting between Company and the Worker's Committee. If the Union does not request such meeting within the fifteen (15) day period, said grievance shall be deemed withdrawn and the matter shall be closed. If a meeting is requested, it shall be held within thirty (30) days of receipt of such request by the Asset Manager. If a meeting is held, a written reply shall be mailed by the Company either disposing of the grievance on the basis requested by the Union or rejecting the grievance with such explanation as appropriate. Such written reply shall be mailed within fifteen (15) days after such meeting.

Step 6.

If the Union disagrees with the decision rendered by the Asset Manager, the Union may elect to take the matter to arbitration. In such a case, the Union will notify management within fifteen (15) days from the date of the written reply specified in Step 5. If the Union fails to provide such notification under Step 6, the grievance shall be deemed withdrawn and the matter shall be closed.

If the Union elects to take the matter to arbitration, the parties will make a joint request to the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service to furnish a list of seven (7) arbitrators or otherwise follow such practices with reference to the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service for handling such disagreements according to the voluntary labor arbitration rules then pertaining. When requesting a list of seven (7) arbitrators from the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, each party shall have the right to reject one panel of arbitrators. Once a panel of arbitrators is selected, strike of the first name shall be determined by the flip of a coin and then the parties shall alternately strike a name until one arbitrator is left. The arbitrator shall be notified of his selection via the procedure outlined by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and a time and place set for the hearing by the arbitrator, subject to the availability of the Company and the Union representatives.

Except as limited by the provisions of this Agreement, and further limited below, the Arbitrator shall be empowered to make a decision in all cases of alleged violation of any of the provisions of the Agreement. Such decisions shall be final and binding on each of the parties.

- a. The Arbitrator shall have no power to add to or subtract from or modify any of the terms of this Agreement.
- b. All awards of back wages shall be limited to the amount of wages the employee would have otherwise earned from his or her employment with the Company. Any employment or unemployment compensation or other compensation for personal services that the grievant may have received from any source during the period in dispute shall be deducted from any award of back wages.
- c. In reviewing a decision to discipline or discharge an employee, the arbitrator shall not have the right to substitute his judgment for that of the Company, but shall be limited to determining whether there was "just cause" for such discipline or discharge.

The Union and the Employer shall each assume the expense of presenting its own case and shall share equally the expense and fees of the Arbitrator.

ARTICLE XXIII FITNESS FOR DUTY

In the event a dispute arises concerning the fitness of an employee to return to work or to continue to work, such dispute shall be settled by three (3) medical service providers,, one to be selected by the Company, one to be selected by the Union, and a third disinterested provider to be chosen by the two so selected. The decision of the majority of the above selected medical service providers shall be final. The Company provider and the Union provider fees and expenses shall be borne by the respective parties.
